

SALOON MEN WILL FIGHT WARD LOCAL OPTION BILL

Send a Representative to Columbus to Meet the Legislative Temperance Committee.

PROHIBITIONISTS ARE NOT TAKING PART

Mayor Weaver's wine room ordinance promises to develop some lively doings in councilmanic circles during the next few months. Unless present indications are false it will occasion equally as much lobbying and red tape proceedings as that incident to the railroad measure. Before the next meeting of council it will be the supreme topic for consideration, and both sides to the question will be represented, each ready to propound self-convincing arguments.

It has been learned that the faction in opposition to the passage of the ordinance has prepared, through its attorney, a number of amendments to the measure and will demand that council give them due consideration. The most potent objection relates to the provision made to abolish restaurants in saloons and to placing a restriction treating on the number of entrances and exits to bar rooms. The opposition feels that such an ordinance would be unconstitutional and will fight the measure bitterly. It is understood that there will be no objection to abolishing wine rooms that are in connection with saloons—that is, those that are frequented by both sexes.

In conversation regarding the ordinance, Mayor Weaver this morning made it plain that he proposes to carry out his first idea, if possible. The ordinance was not prepared in an off-hand manner. A capable attorney compiled it, and the chief executive believes that he can convince council of its validity and will make an endeavor to do so at the next meeting.

A councilman said this morning that he favored an ordinance to place restrictions on wine rooms, but he was against the ordinance submitted by the mayor. He does not believe it will stand a test, but said if the mayor would only agree to bear the cost of testing it, he would not vote against it. The mayor is of the opinion that such fears are groundless, and will make a strenuous attempt so to convince the councilmen.

Much influence is being brought to bear on the question, hundreds of people being interested, and there is likely to be a wave at any time that will either kill or make the measure.

NEW ENTERPRISE FOR EAST END

HYDRAULIC STONE COMPANY HAS BEEN ORGANIZED.

A Site Has Been Purchased and a Plant Will Be Erected Soon.

The stockholders of the American Hydraulic Stone company, a new enterprise, whose plant is located in the East End, have elected the following officers: John Gamble, president; R. L. Caywood, secretary; John S. Scott, treasurer, and Henry Chambers, manager. These men are all well known in East Liverpool business circles and their well known ability guarantees the success of the enterprise.

The firm has purchased a site for the plant near the Homer Laughlin China company and the stock room has already been completed. Excavations for the manufacturing room have been commenced and the building will be erected as soon as possible.

The concern will manufacture hydraulic stone and other building materials and trimmings. Mr. Chambers, the manager, has had considerable experience in the business.

CHINA IS LOOKED UPON AS AN ALLY OF JAPAN

St. Petersburg, February 29.—(Special.)—China is here considered a secret ally of Japan. Russian authorities in the far East have already taken precautionary measures to ward off any sudden attack from the Chinese.

WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Port Arthur, February 29.—(Special.)—General Steessel, commander of the garrison here, has issued general orders directing the attention of troops and inhabitants to the fact that the Japanese intend to land and seize the fortress. He says the Russians will fight to a finish and that an order to surrender will never be given.

CHURCHES STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

One Set on Fire And a Serious Explosion Averted With Difficulty.

Salineville, February 29.—(Special.)—Lightning struck the steeple of the United Presbyterian church here during the storm at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning and was from there communicated to the Presbyterian church on an adjoining lot.

Neither church was seriously damaged, but the latter was set on fire and a gasoline reservoir was saved from exploding only by the prompt action of the janitor, who was luckily on hand early to heat the building for the Sunday services.

Suit for Divorce Entered.

Lisbon, February 29.—(Special.)—Hattie Peters, of Unity township, has filed suit for divorce from Sylvester Peters, asking that her maiden name, Hattie Mackin, be restored. She says they were married at New Springfield, Mahoning county, in 1897, and have no children. Failure to provide on account of idleness and dissipation are the grounds upon which her petition is based. She left her husband in 1902, and sought employment. She says her husband is a painter and able to earn from $2 to $2.50 a day.

DOUBLE TRACK WELL UNDER WAY

Work From Thompson's Pottery
Eastward Is Being Pushed Zealously.

THE ROADBED SOON READY

That the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company was not four-flushing with the city when it applied for a right of way for an additional track has been proven beyond question. Though it has been less than a week since the councilmen unanimously voted for the measure applied for by the company, work has been instituted with a vengeance toward the construction of the improvement. John McLaughlin has the contract for preparing the roadway between Thompson's pottery and a point east, to connect with that portion of the new track already laid, and has the work well under way, having started on it last week.

Owing to the weather conditions this morning the work was suspended, but it will be resumed just as soon as any progress can be made. At the point where Mr. McLaughlin commenced the contract little speed can be attained. He is up against the proposition of removing the big rock wall which has divided Thompson place from the railroad property, and the removal of the stones and the excavation of the dirt cannot be done as fast as in other sections along the right of way.

While this portion of the road is being prepared for the additional track, work will be going on steadily at other sections and if the contractors continue with the same vigor that they have started there is no reason to believe that summer will be far gone before the double track is in operation through the city.

Contractor Thomas McLaughlin is progressing nicely with his portion of the work. He has been working for months between Ralston's crossing and Belleek street and has only a short distance now to finish before the road bed will be ready for the tracking. While the filling in has been under way between the two points named another bird has been killed by Mr. McLaughlin. He has secured the dirt from the right of way granted C. A. Smith for his street car line to the East End. The fact is significant, and it is reasonable to believe that work on the street car line will also start when the weather opens and there will surely be busy times between the city proper and the East End.

Accused of Wife Beating.

William ("Piggy") Allen, a bad man of the East End, was arrested last evening by Officer Spence on a charge of wife beating. It is said he beat his wife in a terrible manner. The mayor would not pass sentence this morning, awaiting further particulars.

OIL PROSPECTS ARE PROMISING

Local Company Has Drilled In Two Good Wells Near Ohioville.

BOTH SHOT ON SATURDAY

The officers and others interested in the Ohio River Oil & Gas company are elated today over the result of recent developments in the territory owned by the company near Ohioville. The wells which the company has had under way for several weeks came in on Saturday, the sand being struck in both holes at about the same time. It was therefore determined to shoot the wells at the same time. The result was most gratifying to the stockholders, and they are encouraged to proceed with the further development of the field.

Arrangements had been made with a Steubenville firm to do the shooting and their representative, Frank Culter, one of the most successful shooters in this section, was on the ground when the East Liverpool party arrived shortly after noon on Saturday. The following well known oil men made up the party: Prof. R. E. Rayman, C. E. Wilbar, M. F. Albright, T. W. McCain, Richard Laughlin, John Wallace and Captain Gus Martindill.

The Ohio River company is made up for the most part of well known local business men. It has been very successful thus far, and the prospects for the future were never brighter.

Four leases have been taken up in the Ohioville field. A tract containing 165 acres and another of 11 acres lie directly east of the village of Ohioville. Two fairly good wells are already in operation on this tract. They were completed and shot last summer and have been pumping continually since that time. The combined production of the two amounts to nearly 20 barrels per day. Two hundred yards northeast of the No. 2 well was located the first one shot on Saturday. The Berea grit was found at a depth of a little less than 1,000 feet, and the indications were that a good paying well had been struck. The sand was unusually soft, and as the drill proceeded the thickness proved to be 23 feet, which is considered extraordinary.

Some time was spent in preparing the shot and owing to the sand being so soft but 20 quarts of nitro-glycerine were used on this well. Shooter Culter had failed to provide himself with a regulation go-devil, and a long piece of grate bar was used to explode the load. The sharp corners of the bar impeded its progress when dropped into the well, and the force with which it hit the glycerine was not sufficient to set it off. More delay was occasioned while the shooter prepared a dynamite cartridge. When this was sent down the explosive was discharged, but the hole was bridged, and the oil failed to reach the surface of the

AN INTERESTING MEETING

Held By the State Association at Col-

Executive Committee.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, February 29.—The East Liverpool delegates to the biennial convention of the Ohio Y. M. C. A. which closed here Sunday night are hopeful of securing the meeting of 1906 for East Liverpool. The business transactions of the convention closed Saturday afternoon and Sunday was devoted to devotional work, the pulpits of the various city churches being occupied by leading Y. M. C. A. speakers, who talked on the progress and purposes of the association and the necessity of co-operation on the part of the churches and all good citizens for advancement of its work.

It will probably be a year hence before the meeting place for the convention of 1906 will be chosen. The selection will be made by the state executive committee and state officers at a convention to be held next year which will be of a business character largely. The convention which closed Sunday was more along the inspirational order. Delegates attend, take part in discussions and listen to addresses on the subject of Y. M. C. A. work.

At the Saturday afternoon session General Secretary H. H. Pollard, of the East Liverpool association, presented the following communication: "Gentlemen—In the name of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian association, of East Liverpool, Ohio, with the approval of the mayor, the city pastors and prominent citizens, I extend to you a cordial invitation to hold in East Liverpool the next biennial convention of the Young Men's Christian association of Ohio."

Messrs. E. D. Moore and W. G. Morris, of the East Liverpool delegation, were among those who talked on Y. M. C. A. work in Columbus pulpits Sunday. Mr. Moore was at the Gift street M. E. church in the morning and the Madison avenue M. E. church in the evening. Mr. Morris spoke in the First Christian church in the morning.

Alvin H. Bulger, of the East Liverpool board of directors, was made a member of the state executive committee. W. H. Charles, a former secretary of the East Liverpool association, was a delegate to the convention. Five months ago he resigned as general secretary of the railroad Y. M. C. A. at Trenton, N. J., to take charge of the Cincinnati railroad association. His work has been crowned by a large measure of success. Ill health caused him to give up his work in East Liverpool. He is an exceedingly popular official. He made an address before the Columbus railroad Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon.

INCREASES ITS SCOPE

Harvey Bill Makes the Attorney General's Department a Big One.

Columbus, February 29.—(Special.)—The Harvey bill, making the attorney general's office a department of immense proportions, has passed the senate. It gives the attorney general a salary of $4,500, with $500 for expenses; a first assistant with $3,000 salary; a second assistant with $2,500 salary; a chief clerk, a stenographer and all the special counsel he can induce the governor and auditor of state to believe is necessary.

As presented to the senate, the attorney general was given authority to hire all the special counsel he wanted, but on motion from Senator Houck the provision "with the consent of the governor and auditor of state," was added.

The Object to Prevent Deals.

Columbus, February 29.—(Special.)—A unique measure has been offered by Senator Godfrey, of Putnam. He proposes to give city engineers the right to bid on municipal improvements and if his bid is low the contract is to be awarded to him and carried out by the board of public service. The object of the bill is to prevent "deals" between contractors who bid on city work and insure low prices to the municipality.

LIVELY INTEREST SHOWN IN NEW SALOON MEASURE

Mayor's Wine Room Ordinance Bids Fair to Become a Most Interesting Issue.

HE SAYS IT WILL STAND THE TEST

J. C. Walsh, representing the liquor dealers of the city, will leave this evening for Columbus, where tomorrow he will meet the committee of the legislature named to report on the Brannock bill. Mr. Walsh will submit a number of petitions to the committee, which pray for the defeat of the bill. It is said that the petitions contain 2,300 signatures.

The movement on the part of the liquor dealers will not be met by any serious counteractive by local people favoring the passage of the bill. It is not deemed absolutely necessary owing to the certainty of Representative Hill's attitude on the question. He is thought to be strongly in favor of the measure and as petitions from this city would have little effect on any others than those representing this district, it is not considered a necessity to resort to the methods adopted by the liquor dealers. However, an undercurrent has been steadily bearing fruit and will be continued until the last moment by the supporters of the bills.

It is said that Representative Hill has been flooded with letters from the most prominent people of the city asking him to support the bill and that he has been in communication with these people for a long time. One of this faction stated this morning that it was due to the liquor league learning that such work has been going on that the petitions were started.

Mayor Weaver stated this morning that he had done nothing definite thus far, as the sentiment of a Prohibitionist has little effect in the legislature. He said he had been left to him, though, he would have instituted a more sweeping fight for the bill and that he may on his own accord do something toward that end during the next few days.

It is argued that if the bill becomes a law the West End and the East End will each be freed from saloons and that as a result the central portion of the city will have a greatly increased number.

HOME RULE FOR SCHOOLS

Auditor General to Report on Leaving
Matters to the Control of
Each District.

Columbus, February 29.—(Special.)—It is unofficially announced that the auditor general will report early this week on the question of leaving the form of school government optional to each district. He is reading the debates of the constitutional convention to get some light on this subject. If he finds this plan has constitutional sanction the bill will be introduced along the line of allowing at least each city district to select its own form. This will be satisfactory to Cleveland.

Advocates of the ward plan have made overtures to the others in regard to some compromise measure. They want to have the present boards determine the plans of the new boards, but as the present boards are unconstitutional it is generally said that such a proposition would not pass the court and that only a vote of the people could determine. Should this not go through it is said the Cleveland plan advocates will affect a combination with the Smith code and support it.

Columbus, February 29.—(Special.)—The Christian Stars of Friendship of America, of the East End, East Liverpool, have been incorporated to take care of sick members, bury the dead, encourage the Christian cause of God, lift up humanity, provide homes for old members, orphan children and widows and for the general education of the cause of industry, morality, sobriety and the general good of the members.

The incorporators are Richard Jennings, Golden Carter, George Logan, Mary Jennings, Mollie Jennings, Virginia Jennings, Ernest T. Topley, Edward Banks and Charlie Mills.

HAVOC WAS CAUSED BY WINTER LIGHTNING

The thunder storm of Sunday morning did considerable damage in this section, and was one of the severest that ever visited the city. The lightning played havoc with the lines of the Columbiana County Telephone company between this city and Salineville, and the entire force of linemen in the employ of the company was sent out early yesterday morning to make repairs.

The lightning was unusually severe in this city, and several buildings were struck. The family of William Johnson had a narrow escape when a bolt of lightning struck the corner of the house. The Johnson home is in the

The remains of Frank P. Salsbery were laid to rest in Riverview cemetery this afternoon, the services being in charge of the local aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles. The ceremony was very impressive, and showed the devotion of the members to their departed brother.

The lodge assembled at its rooms in the Thompson building at 1 o'clock to the number of nearly a hundred. The members marched in order to the late home, and from there the remains were escorted to the First M. E. church, where the regular service was conducted. Rev. Dr. S. F. Lloyd, pastor of the Erie street M. E. church, officiated. The sermon was forcible and impressive, and the large attendance was moved to tears at several points in the discourse.

It had been arranged for the lodge to march from the church to the cemetery, where the touching and impressive burial ceremony of the Eagles was given. The funeral was attended by a large crowd, relatives, friends and lodge brothers.

Preceding the funeral cortege was a platoon of police, old associates of Mr. Salsbery, who had served with him on the force.

Columbus, February 29.—(Special.)—A unique measure has been offered by Senator Godfrey, of Putnam. He proposes to give city engineers the right to bid on municipal improvements and if his bid is low the contract is to be awarded to him and carried out by the board of public service. The object of the bill is to prevent "deals" between contractors who bid on city work and insure low prices to the municipality.

LIVELY INTEREST SHOWN IN NEW SALOON MEASURE

Mayor's Wine Room Ordinance Bids Fair to Become a Most Interesting Issue.

HE SAYS IT WILL STAND THE TEST

J. C. Walsh, representing the liquor dealers of the city, will leave this evening for Columbus, where tomorrow he will meet the committee of the legislature named to report on the Brannock bill. Mr. Walsh will submit a number of petitions to the committee, which pray for the defeat of the bill. It is said that the petitions contain 2,300 signatures.

The movement on the part of the liquor dealers will not be met by any serious counteractive by local people favoring the passage of the bill. It is not deemed absolutely necessary owing to the certainty of Representative Hill's attitude on the question. He is thought to be strongly in favor of the measure and as petitions from this city would have little effect on any others than those representing this district, it is not considered a necessity to resort to the methods adopted by the liquor dealers. However, an undercurrent has been steadily bearing fruit and will be continued until the last moment by the supporters of the bills.

It is said that Representative Hill has been flooded with letters from the most prominent people of the city asking him to support the bill and that he has been in communication with these people for a long time. One of this faction stated this morning that it was due to the liquor league learning that such work has been going on that the petitions were started.

Mayor Weaver stated this morning that he had done nothing definite thus far, as the sentiment of a Prohibitionist has little effect in the legislature. He said had it been left to him, though, he would have instituted a more sweeping fight for the bill and that he may on his own accord do something toward that end during the next few days.

It is argued that if the bill becomes a law the West End and the East End will each be freed from saloons and that as a result the central portion of the city will have a greatly increased number.

HOME RULE FOR SCHOOLS

Auditor General to Report on Leaving
Each District.

Columbus, February 29.—(Special.)—It is unofficially announced that the auditor general will report early this week on the question of leaving the form of school government optional to each district. He is reading the debates of the constitutional convention to get some light on this subject. If he finds this plan has constitutional sanction the bill will be introduced along the line of allowing at least each city district to select its own form. This will be satisfactory to Cleveland.

Advocates of the ward plan have made overtures to the others in regard to some compromise measure. They want to have the present boards determine the plans of the new boards, but as the present boards are unconstitutional it is generally said that such a proposition would not pass the court and that only a vote of the people could determine. Should this not go through it is said the Cleveland plan advocates will affect a combination with the Smith code and support it.

HAVOC WAS CAUSED BY WINTER LIGHTNING

The thunder storm of Sunday morning did considerable damage in this section, and was one of the severest that ever visited the city. The lightning played havoc with the lines of the Columbiana County Telephone company between this city and Sallenville, and the entire force of linemen in the employ of the company was sent out early yesterday morning to make repairs.

The lightning was unusually severe in this city, and several buildings were struck. The family of William Johnson had a narrow escape when a bolt of lightning struck the corner of the house. The Johnson home is in the

The remains of Frank P. Salsberry were laid to rest in Riverview cemetery this afternoon, the services being in charge of the local acie, Fraternal Order of Eagles. The ceremony was very impressive, and showed the devotion of the members to their departed brother.

The lodge assembled at its rooms in the Thompson building at 1 o'clock to the number of nearly a hundred. The members marched in order to the late home, and from there the remains were escorted to the First M. E. church, where the regular service was conducted. Rev. Dr. S. F. Lloyd, pastor of the Erie street M. E. church, officiated. The sermon was forcible and impressive, and the large attendance was moved to tears at several points in the discourse.

It had been arranged for the lodge to march from the church to the cemetery, where the touching and impressive burial ceremony of the Eagles was given. The funeral was attended by a large crowd, relatives, friends and lodge brothers.

Preceding the funeral cortege was a platoon of police, old associates of Mr. Salsberry, who had served with him on the force.

NEW YORK MARKET.

In crockery there is noted a good, steady demand for both imported and domestic ware. The movement in imported descriptions of finer sorts is said to be particularly active. Large jobbing interests in both local and interior markets, says the Commercial, are reported to have allowed their stocks to run low on most descriptions, and the movement of goods to replenish these depleted stocks is said to be in excess of that for the same period last year. The buyers for large retail concerns in interior markets are more numerous, and the mail order business is on the increase.

In tea and dinner sets covering the various designs offered a good movement is noted. Bric-a-brac is also finding a good outlet and the variety of new styles and designs on view is attracting more attention than usual. In the jobbing grades wares of German manufacture are in more demand and prices are attractive. French goods in the medium-priced articles are also commanding more interest from consumers. White granite ware in English goods is a ready seller.

There is a good demand for domestic crockery and manufacturers at factory points are reported in some cases behind on orders taken for March delivery. In glassware conditions are dull for most lines, though blown tableware and bar goods are receiving a fair amount of attention in local jobbing circles. Sales covering the various descriptions offered are generally reported in excess of those at this time last year.

SERIOUSLY ILL.

John Herbert, boss kiln fireman at the Homer Laughlin China company plants, is seriously ill at his home on Maple Tree street from an attack of stomach trouble and complications. During the time the gas was short he was compelled to be at the plant almost constantly and this resulted in sickness. Saturday and yesterday his condition was very serious, but he is some better today. Charles Herbert, a son, employed at the Coshocton plant, reached here Saturday and will remain until his father is improved.

Japanese Establish Blockade of Russian Port of Vladivostok.

KEEPING MOVEMENTS SECRET

Rigid Censorship Necessary to the Success of Japanese Arms—Ambassador to London Explains Absence of News of War's Progress.

London, Feb. 29.—Vladivostok has been blockaded by a Japanese fleet since Thursday, according to a Daily Mail dispatch from Hakodate, which adds that incoming steamers report Russian cruisers on the east coast of Kinkwasan, in the bay of Sendai, Japan.

London, Feb. 29.—The following official dispatch has been received at the Japanese legation here from Tokyo: "A number of the enemy's cavalry appeared at a point 700 metres north of Ping Yang, Korea. Our infantry fired upon them, causing them to retreat."

As the campaign progresses it seems that the chances are growing slimmer for a great pitched battle on the open sea between the fleets of modern battleships which the world

of Japanese and that the Japanese were compelled to retreat, leaving their horses, which were seized by the Cossacks. Gen. Linevitch dispatched cavalry and a body of infantry in pursuit and with an order to occupy Northern Korea.

Chefoo, Feb. 29.—The Japanese sailors who arrived here Saturday are from the Jinsen Maru and the Bushu, two of the five merchant vessels with which Admiral Togo attempted to block the entrance to Port Arthur on the morning of the 24th. Each steamer was manned by 30 men, 29 of whom are here.

The details of how the steamers were taken into the entrance to the harbor and sunk are being withheld by the sailors, but Lieut. Saito stated that they got so close to the Retvizan that had they been armed with rifles they could have fired into her crew.

Japanese Sailors Make Their Escape. When it was found that the scheme was a failure they dropped anchor and the crews crowded into the remaining boats. They then blew up the steamers. A strong wind and the glare of the lights prevented the men from reaching the torpedo flotilla and at daylight they were out of sight of the fleet, having been driven in an easterly direction by the wind to the Miao Tao islands, which they reached the same evening. The boats did not land together, but the men found each other on the islands. They chartered a junk in which they went to Tung Chow Fou. They walked 40 miles to Chefoo, going two days without food.

Seoul, Feb. 29.—Details of a skirmish at Ping Yang show that 50 Rus-

including the naval contingent organized from the crews of the disabled and idle warships, to all parts of the defenses and also to the hinterland. Refugees who have arrived here report that the Russians momentarily fear a land investment of Port Arthur from Pigeon bay. Four trains of Russian refugees from points south of Tashchichas have gone north. One American citizen and two British subjects, who were expelled from Port Arthur without being given the right to remove their property, declare they were expelled because of alleged relations with newspaper correspondents which charge they say.

MAP SHOWING THE DISTRIBUTION OF TROOPS IN THE EAST AND THE TOWNS OF WIJU AND PINGYANG IN KOREA, BETWEEN WHICH A GREAT LAND BATTLE IS LIKELY SOON TO OCCUR.

has long awaited. It is believed here that the Russians lack the strength to assume the offensive and that they will probably stick to Port Arthur doggedly to await a sea and land investment.

Whoever wins the war Port Arthur will cease to be an important base. The fortifications will probably be dismantled, as they are small and cramped, and however many guns are defending it, it is thought they are incapable of insuring protection. It is estimated that the Russians have 200 guns mounted at Port Arthur, making it theoretically one of the strongest forts in the world.

Rigid Censorship Necessary.

Korean soldiers on the Ham-Gyenz frontier have been attacked and dispersed by Russian troops. In reference to the severity of the censorship exercised by the Japanese government over the news dispatches of foreign correspondents, Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to Great Britain, said:

"I have had numerous representations from English and other newspapers upon this subject, but I believe that our position in the case is not only right but will be admitted to be such by those who look carefully into the circumstances."

"We are fighting against numerical odds which are quite out of proportion to the odds against any combatant in recent wars. We are fighting for our existence, and our only hope of maintaining it is to strike swiftly and severely at the beginning. To get in the first blows means more to us than I think it has ever meant to any beligerent, and to insure this it is vital for us to demand a degree of secrecy which had not been necessary in any recent warfare. Even at the risk of alienating temporarily the friendship of the press of the world we must prevent even a whisper of our real intentions reaching our powerful enemy."

Russian Account of Skirmish.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 29.—A dispatch received here from Liao-Yang, and dated February 28, says that Chinese on the Yalu river report that an advance guard of Russian cavalry which has penetrated Korea for a distance of about 200 versts across the river, had an encounter with a detachment of Japanese and that the Japanese were compelled to retreat, leaving their horses, which were seized by the Cossacks. Gen. Linevitch dispatched cavalry and a body of infantry in pursuit and with an order to occupy Northern Korea.

In regard to the opening of Wiju, for which United States Minister Allen has long been pressing, it has been decided to await the formal announcement of the Japanese, whose influence is now dominant in Korea. Japan undoubtedly approves and the incident has a significant bearing on the future of Korea, assuming that Japan is triumphant.

Yin Kow, Feb. 29.—Viceroy Alexieff has arrived at Mukden, where he probably will remain until the reorganization of the forces has been completed. He has been living aboard a train. The Novik Krai declares there is great hostility in Korea, especially in Chemulpo, against the Japanese protectorate.

The first reports by witnesses of the engagement at Port Arthur in the early morning of Wednesday last have received here. They say that one Japanese coal hulk was sunk and one beached near the Retvizan and that 19 Japanese in civilian clothes reached shore and were made prisoners. The Askold and Bayan approached the Japanese fleet and then retired, being unable to entice the enemy to engage them. From a long range two shells struck in the city.

The Retvizan is serviceable as an auxiliary host, but the foreign enlisting has abandoned the hope of raising her, as the patching on the 40-foot cleft made by a Japanese torpedo has given way and stopped progress and the Russian engineers have interfered with the original plans of raising the vessel.

Battleship Leaks Badly. The Czarvitch is kept afloat by constant pumping; the Novik has been repaired and the Pallada has been docked.

Repeated attacks by the Japanese during the past week have resulted in the constant shifting of the troops.

was unjustifiable, though the authorities declare that they are justified in expelling all civilians who are not required for defense. The authorities have refused to permit the British Capt. Riddle to take his ship, the Foxtonhall, to Chefoo. It is understood if the ship is released a Russian skipper will be sent with her for the purpose of preventing intelligence of the Russian operations being given to the Japanese blockaders.

Japanese warships have been reported in the vicinity of Vladivostok, but this report of a blockade, although considered probable, has not yet been confirmed from other sources.

Tien Tsin, Feb. 29.—Russians are interfering with the imperial railway telegraphs. On February 27 they demanded that they be allowed to read the telegrams received at Tien Schwang station, where the authorities have placed a sentry. Chinese officials say that the reported landing of Japanese troops at Posslet bay has not been confirmed.

Captain Marshall Reports. Washington, Feb. 29.—The text of the message to the navy department from Commander Marshall of the Vicksburg is as follows: "Took the initiative by sending medical assistance to the Variag as soon as possible after learning that they were abandoning vessel. Sent three boats and assisted taking off the Russian sailors, putting them on board the British and Italian vessels. The Variag remained afloat over five hours, firing slowly. Our boats were instructed not to bring the Russian sailors to Vicksburg, offering the Zafiro temporarily, but offer was declined."

Peking, Feb. 29.—Since February 23 four troop trains have left Pao-Ting-Fu for the northeastern frontier. The last contingent leaves at once, completing the force of 10,000 men. These troops are all regulars and their equipment is excellent. They will be replaced by troops from Shan-Tung province.

Japanese Establish Blockade of Russian Port of Vladivostok.

KEEPING MOVEMENTS SECRET

Rigid Censorship Necessary to the Success of Japanese Arms—Ambassador to London Explains Absence of News of War's Progress.

London, Feb. 29.—Vladivostok has been blockaded by a Japanese fleet since Thursday, according to a Daily Mail dispatch from Hakodate, which adds that incoming steamers report Russian cruisers on the east coast of Kinkasan, in the bay of Sendai, Japan.

London, Feb. 29.—The following official dispatch has been received at the Japanese legation here from Tokyo: "A number of the enemy's cavalry appeared at a point 700 metres north of Ping Yang, Korea. Our infantry fired upon them, causing them to retreat."

As the campaign progresses it seems that the chances are growing slimmer for a great pitched battle on the open sea between the fleets of modern battleships which the world

of Japanese and that the Japanese were compelled to retreat, leaving their horses, which were seized by the Cossacks. Gen. Linevitch dispatched cavalry and a body of infantry in pursuit and with an order to occupy Northern Korea.

Chefoo, Feb. 29.—The Japanese sailors who arrived here Saturday are from the Jinsen Maru and the Bushu, two of the five merchant vessels with which Admiral Togo attempted to block the entrance to Port Arthur on the morning of the 24th. Each steamer was manned by 30 men, 28 of whom are here.

The details of how the steamers were taken into the entrance to the harbor and sunk are being withheld by the sailors, but Lieut. Saito stated that they got so close to the Retvizan that they had been armed with rifles they could have fired into her crew.

Japanese Sailors Make Their Escape.

When it was found that the scheme was a failure they dropped anchor and the crews crowded into the remaining boats. They then blew up the steamers. A strong wind and the glare of the lights prevented the men from reaching the torpedo flotilla and at daylight they were out of sight of the fleet, having been driven in an easterly direction by the wind to the Miao Tao islands, which they reached the same evening. The boats did not land together, but the men found each other on the islands. They chartered a junk in which they went to Tung Chow Fou. They walked 40 miles to Chefoo, going two days without food.

Seoul, Feb. 29.—Details of a skirmish at Eioz Yang show that 50 Russian cavalrymen approached the north gate of the Japanese camp and fired at a distance of 1,000 metres. A sharp fusillade took place and the Russians retired. All foreigners are safe.

In regard to the opening of Wifu, for which United States Minister Allen has long been pressing, it has been decided to await the formal announcement of the Japanese, whose influence is now dominant in Korea. Japan undoubtedly approves and the incident has a significant bearing on the future of Korea, assuming that Japan is triumphant.

Yin Kow, Feb. 29.—Viceroy Alexieff has arrived at Mukden, where he probably will remain until the reorganization of the forces has been completed. He has been living aboard a train. The Novi Krai declares there is great hostility in Korea, especially in Chemulpo, against the Japanese protectorate.

The first reports by witnesses of the engagement at Port Arthur in the early morning of Wednesday last have received here. They say that one Japanese coal hulk was sunk and one beached near the Retvizan and that 14 Japanese in civilian clothes reached shore and were made prisoners. The Askold and Bayan approached the Japanese fleet and then retired, being unable to entice the enemy to engage them. From a long range two shells struck in the city.

The Retvizan is serviceable as an auxiliary fort, but the foreign engineer has abandoned the hope of raising her, as the patching on the 40-foot cleft made by a Japanese torpedo has given way and stopped progress and the Russian engineers have interfered with the original plans of raising the vessel.

Battleship Leaks Badly. The Czarvitch is kept afloat by constant pumping; the Novik has been repaired and the Pallada has been docked.

Repeated attacks by the Japanese during the past week have resulted in the constant shifting of the troops.

including the naval contingent organized from the crews of the disabled and idle warships, to all parts of the defenses and also to the hinterland.

Refugees who have arrived here report that the Russians momentarily fear a land investment of Port Arthur from Pigeon bay. Four trains of Russian refugees from points south of Tashschias have gone

was unjustifiable, though the authorities declare that they are justified in expelling all civilians who are not required for defense. The authorities have refused to permit the British Capt. Riddle to take his ship, the Foxtonhall, to Chefoo. It is understood if the ship is released a Russian skipper will be sent with her for the purpose of preventing intelligence of the Russian operations being given to the Japanese blockaders.

Captain Marshall Reports.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The text of the message to the navy department from Commander Marshall of the Vicksburg is as follows: "Took the initiative by sending medical assistance to the Variag as soon as possible after learning that they were abandoning vessel. Sent three boats and assisted taking off the Russian sailors, putting them on board the British and Italian vessels. The Variag remained afloat over five hours, filling slowly. Our boats were instructed not to bring the Russian sailors to Vicksburg, offering the Zafiro temporarily, but offer was declined."

CHAPMAN BILL MEETS WITH FAVOR

New Measure That Will Complicate
the Canal Fight--Harmony at Republican Caucus--Ellis' Disclaimer--Legislative Notes.

Columbus, O., Feb. 29.--(Special.)--

If the wishes of the state administration and of the people generally are heeded, the legislature will abolish spring elections and will permit the voters to determine if they want state elections held every two years.

The Chapman bill to abolish spring elections will be considered in the senate on Tuesday afternoon, and it looks now as if the measure would pass without any strong opposition.

Senator Ricketts has presented a resolution which authorizes the electors to say, at the election of November, 1905, if they want the constitution amended so that state elections will be held in the even-numbered years in the odd-numbered years. Such an arrangement would be hailed with delight by the great masses of citizens, for it would release them from the thrall of everlasting politics. It would mean that state "issues" would not confront them except once every two years, and the intervening fall they could give their attention wholly to local affairs. It would divorce municipal questions from state issues and would permit the independent voter to express his sentiments in municipal affairs without fear of getting mixed on state matters.

The administration is as good as pledged to support the scheme and there is no apparent reason why the Chapman bill should not be made a law and the Ricketts resolution, or one similar to it, should not be adopted.

The adoption of such a constitutional resolution and its endorsement by the people necessarily would make many changes in terms of office of state officials, but none that would not be agreeable to the people.

Since the legislature has been in session the name of Attorney General Wade H. Ellis has been freely used by newspapers in connection with bills of all kinds. He has been charged or credited, as the case may be, with the authorship of almost half of the bills that have been intro-

Attorney General of Ohio.
The matter became so strong.

uous that patience ceased to be a virtue, and in order to make his position clear Mr. Ellis was obliged to issue a statement in which he denied that he had prepared any bill. He says that no proposed law has emanated from his office, and he announces that no one connected with the state legal department will be permitted to draft a bill or take a position for or against any pending legislation.

When the special canal commission, made up of L. D. Hamlin and Allen W. Thurman, took up the task two years ago of inspecting the canal system with a view to increasing the revenues of the state, it made an exhaustive study of conditions. The conclusions drawn from them have been presented in the form of addresses to the senate committees on finance and public works, which are jointly considering the canal question.

A bill, prepared from its field notes and plans, was offered in the house by Representative Shuler of Dayton. It provides for the deepening of the canals from Cincinnati to Toledo and from Cleveland to Dresden to a uniform depth of five feet. The bill defines how and where the money is to be spent and asks for appropriations aggregating $1,500,000. It has been claimed that with this stage of water even the electric mule could be operated with a profit, although former Secretary of State Ryan in the open meeting before the house of representatives asserted that no matter how deep the waterways were made they would never be generally used again. The presentation of this bill will no doubt complicate the canal fight now on.

The canal hearing before the house committee on public works brought out some surprises. Chief among them was the appearance of ex-Governor George K. Nash, who announced that he favored the amended Johnson bill. The second surprise was the stand taken by ex-Attorney General John M. Sheets, who also thinks the Johnson bill a good one. Those who want the canals maintained will appear before the committee in two weeks and they promise to show the members that the people do not want the canals abandoned.

While politicians only are evincing a lively interest in the bill to abolish spring elections and the proposition to amend the constitution so that biennial state elections will be possible, the people at large are taking a hand in the school code matter. The hearings of the several codes are of wide interest. From almost every corner of the state come educators and laymen who offer suggestions. The women's clubs are aroused and they have plans they would like to see consummated. This general interest signifies but one thing--which is that the education of the growing generation will not be neglected. All of this discussion cannot help but result in a good school code, and after all, that is what is desired by the several contending interests.

The house had an uproarious time over the bill of Jones of Delaware to fine anyone $100 who ventured to use an automobile outside of town. The committee had mocked the bill by adding corn shellers and traction engines. Jones joined in the fun by offering the following amendment: "All dry goods stores, grocery stores, drug shops, dram shops, and all other shops, shall be located on the outer edge of all such cities, villages and hamlets, in order that the citizens of the rural districts of Ohio may not be required to enter inside such municipalities and thereby jeopardize their life, liberty or pursuit of happiness by getting in a mixup with any rapidly moving locomobile, automobile or other motor vehicle operated therein."

Representative Lehman of Sandusky offered this one:

"And provided, That all horses, mules, oxen or other draft animals, shall, while traveling on such public highways, have their ears stuffed with cotton batting and their eyes covered with leather blinds, and shall also be provided with a suitable bell, horn or other signal."

The bill was sent to the committee on banks, where it will die quietly and in a dignified manner.

The efforts of some sentimentalists to do away with the drastic law enacted two years ago, making burglary of inhabited dwellings punishable by life imprisonment, were defeated in the house of representatives by the impassioned speech of Representative Williams of Mahoning county, who introduced the measure in the last general assembly. The committee on judiciary had recommended for passage the Thompson bill, making the limit 30 years, but the house was unable to withstand the fiery eloquence of the Mahoning man, who pointed out that it was necessary to find some way of getting rid of these human rattlesnakes, who strike in the dark.

Mr. Groundhog "better watch out" or his scound will be possessed by the wily country boy who goes a-hunting with the old-time musket. The house has passed the Eley bill, which says that a bounty of ten cents shall be paid for each scalp delivered to the clerk of the township trustees. When one takes into consideration the real old-fashioned winter that the groundhog has given to the country there can be no doubting that the Eley bill meets with popular approval. It is suggested in connection herewith that certain directors of weather bureaus ought to be included in the same measure and for the same reason.

The time is fast approaching when the house will cast a vote on the Brannock ward local option bill. There will be two more meetings of the temperance committee--the evenings of March 1 and 2--at which the opponents of the measure will be heard. The hearing of March 2 will be the last, and the bill will be reported back to the house very shortly after that time. Both sides claim a victory now.

A bill which will interest the several hundred thousand men of the state who are carrying fraternal insurance has been offered in the house by Representative Kennedy of Cincinnati. It provides for a more direct representation in the governing body of such insurance companies, provision being made to the effect that at least 75 per cent of the governing body of such companies must be elected by direct vote of the members.

CHARTER SURRENDERED

Members of Welcome Division Will Form an Independent Temperance Organization.

Welcome division No. 8, Sons of Temperance, at a meeting held recently, voted unanimously to surrender its charter and withdraw from the organization. It is the intention of the members to form an independent temperance organization to be conducted upon somewhat similar lines. The proposition will come up for a final hearing at the regular meeting to be held next week.

The troubles of the organization with National Organizer Rockwood over the promised library and that gentleman's attempt to have a prominent member expelled for giving information of the trouble to the newspapers are the alleged causes leading up to the withdrawal. The members also objected to paying a per capita tax to the grand lodge, believing that the money could better be applied here.

TRACKS FLOODED

Surface Water Greatly Hampers Use of Tracks Near Mulberry Street. Drains Will Be Made.

The tracks of the C. & P. railroad company in the neighborhood of Mulberry street were flooded with surface water this morning and it was with great difficulty that the tracks could be used. The crew of the shifter in operating the switches had to wade in water almost knee deep.

The tracks from First avenue to Bel-leek street are about 18 inches below the city grade and the same trouble is encountered after any heavy rain. When the additional track is laid the difficulty will be remedied by raising both tracks about 18 inches.

In spite of the frozen condition of the ground a large force of men was put to work this morning digging the trenches for a drainage system which will be completed as soon as possible. The iron pipe for the drain was unloaded at the crossing this morning.

OPTIONS TAKEN

Pittsburg Men Secure a Site on Which It Is Proposed to Erect a Hotel.

Pittsburg men, whose intention is said to be the erection of a hotel, have taken an option on several lots on St. George street owned by John Swartz. The site is near the proposed station for the East End and is a good one for the purpose.

The project of a hotel in the East End has been so much talked of for the past four years that very little credence is given rumors that it is to be built. Pittsburg parties have held options in that time, one of which is still in force.

It is stated that salesmen and others interested in the Laughlin potteries are the projectors and that the hotel is intended mainly for the accommodation of pottery buyers and others who visit the East End.

Interesting Meetings.

The attendance at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday was the largest in many months and the meetings were highly interesting. Rev. Mr. Crowe occupied the pulpit at both services and preached two very eloquent sermons. Prof. Laughlin, who is to have charge of the singing at the evangelistic meetings for the next two weeks, was present at both services and the music was an enjoyable feature. Rev. Mr. Clure, who is to assist the pastor this week, will preach tonight.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquezone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquezone we publish an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do that to convince you that Liquezone does as we claim.

Please note what that means. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is, therefore, almost helpless in any germ disease. Liquezone alone can kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too.

Acts Like Oxygen.

Liquezone is the result of a process which, for more than 20 years, has been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. By a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time, these gases are made part of the liquid product.

The result is a product that does what oxygen does. Oxygen gas, as you know, is the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. Liquezone is a vitalizing tonic with which no other known product can compare. But germs are vegetables; and Liquezone, which--like oxygen--is life to an animal, is deadly to vegetable matter.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquezone--the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery.

school service yesterday decision day was observed and 25 of the scholars signified their intention of becoming members of the church.

Allen Arrested.

William Allen was arrested Saturday night by Officers Spence and Fisher on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was sent to the central station in the patrol wagon. Allen was arrested at his home, complaint having been made at the fire station that he had been mistreating his wife.

Attended the Funeral.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Mowen were at Steubenville yesterday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mowen's brother-in-law, Dan Kinney, who died there a few days ago. Dr. Mowen returned on the evening train and Mrs. Mowen returned today.

Will Visit Hot Springs.

Mrs. Martha Pittinger, who recently sold her residence property on First avenue to Taylor Larkins, will leave in a few days for Hot Springs, Ark., where she will spend several weeks for the benefit of her health.

Plate Glass Broken.

A large plate glass window at the Frye restaurant on Pennsylvania avenue was broken Saturday night, presumably by some boys who were at play nearby. The glass was insured in Walter Supplee's agency.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Yates have moved to the East End from Pittsburg and will live on Pennsylvania avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alderdice have returned to Pittsburg after a visit with Mrs. Emma Hamilton, of Ohio avenue.

Miss Mame Oberlin, who recently underwent an operation at a Cleveland hospital, is improving, but it will be several weeks before she can return home.

D. F. White, who has been confined to his home on Railroad street for the past two weeks with the grip, is able to be out again, although not entirely recovered.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

A handsome fountain will be installed on the public square in Columbiana this spring.

A huge gas pipe fell at the Youngstown Steel company's plant and killed Morris Hollander, a workman.

Mrs. Jennie Laughlin, of Mineral Ridge, tried at Youngstown, for the murder of her husband, was found not guilty.

W. Aubrey Thomas, of Niles, is likely to be the Trumbull county Republican candidate for congress to succeed General Charles Dick.

It is said the terminus of the Stark county railroad will be at Salem for the present, and that the line to East Palestine will not be pushed.

Pittsburg and Philadelphia capitalists have purchased 40 acres of the Wilson farm at Industry, Pa., and will build a large steel plant and brick yard.

Mrs. E. T. Butz, wife of Rev. E. T. Butz, at one time pastor of the German Lutheran church in Salem, is dead at her home in Lock Haven, Pa., aged 35 years.

At Hickory, Washington county, Pa., robbers stole the postoffice safe, hauled it out to a cornfield, blew it open with dynamite and secured $40 in cash and a lot of stamps and postal cards.

William S. Rudge, a former contracting plumber, now employed in the city water works department at Young-

ery. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others.

That price was paid because Liquezone does what all the skill in the world cannot do without it. It does in germ diseases that which is impossible with drugs. It carries into the blood a harmless yet powerful germicide, to destroy at once and forever the cause of any germ disease. And no man knows another way to do it. Liquezone is new in America, and millions who need it don't know of it. For that reason we are spending $500,000 to give the first bottle free to each of a million sick ones.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

Any disease that begins with fever--all inflammation--all aches and pains--all results of impure or poisonous blood. Is a germ disease. Liquezone acts as a vitalizer, accomplishing what no drugs can do.

town, has filed suit for $20,000 against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Fellows, for the alleged alienation of his wife's affection.

Cure
ALSO PURIFIES THE BLOOD.
Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write Dr. Fenner. He has spent a lifetime curing just such cases as yours. All consultations are FREE.
Cured of Backache.

Member of the Business Men's League and one of the best known business men in St. Louis, Mo. Read what Mr. Wand has to say about Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure:
"I know what it is to be afflicted with backache and I sympathize with fellow sufferers. After swallowing various and frequent nauseating doses of this and that prescription I decided that if Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure could not rid me of those backaches it at least would not do me any harm and I procured a bottle.
"Now the first bottle didn't stop those wearing backaches, but it did afford me great relief. The second bottle, however, did effectually put a stop to those racking backaches. Occasionally they returned when strenuous business affairs exhausted the physical forces, but a dose or two of Dr. Fenner's Cure gave instant relief.
Respectfully,
Thor Wand

Anent the postal scandals President Roosevelt says: "It is impossible to expect that corruption will not occasionally occur in any government, but the vital point is the energy, the fearlessness and the efficiency with which such corruption is cut out and the cor-ruptionists punished." There is no likelihood that this vital point will ever be lost sight of while Theodore Roosevelt is president.

bility seems to have been lost sight

D. T. Roy.

On Saturday evening C. H. Blazier received a telegram from Loreda, Tex., announcing the death of his brother-in-law, D. T. Roy. Mr. Roy was a native of Ohio, a civil engineer by occupation, and at the time of his death was superintendent of some of the mines on the Rio Grande.

PAYNE COMMENDED.

President Writes Complimentary Letter to Postmaster General.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The President has sent a letter to Postmaster General Payne in which he says:
"While all the work of the postoffice department and the department of justice in connection with the postal frauds is not yet over, there is already to the credit of the departments, and therefore primarily to your credit,
such an amount of substantial achievement that I take this opportunity to congratulate you personally upon it."
"The success of the prosecutions in this case, as compared with previous experiences in prosecuting government officials who have been guilty of malfeasance or misfeasance, is noteworthy as it is gratifying and may be a source of encouragement to all men who believe in decency and honesty in public life."
"What has been accomplished by you, by those who have worked under you in your department, and by the department of justice, redounds to the credit of our whole people and is a signal triumph for the cause of popular government. If corruption goes unpunished in popular government,
the government by the people will ultimately fail; and they are the best friends of the people who make it evident that whoever, in public office, or in connection with public office, sins against the fundamental laws of civic and social well being will be punished with unsparing rigor."

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system.
In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance.
It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin Li Bulger.

Quality and Price

Absolute purity and highest quality in all drug store goods with lowest possible prices always—is a combination in force at this store that makes it well worth while going out of your way to come here. Quality is made of chief importance. It is never sacrificed. After that comes price. Our goods are priced at a very close margin of profit. On equally high quality of goods we do not believe there are any lower prices anywhere else.

Neatness Does Count

"Some one has said that clothes does not make the man," but neat dress has gotten many a person a good position. This same thing holds good when applied to the stationery you use, neat, stylish, up-to-date letter paper shows three good qualities of the writer, neatness, stylishness and good taste. Our line of stationery both in box paper and tablets has been cho-

AT THE THEATER

Joe W. Spears' comedians presenting that ever popular success, "The Irish Pawnbrokers," will be the attraction at the Grand tomorrow evening.
This organization is one of the most popular of its kind in existence today, and the comedy now in its fourth successful seasons, bids fair to run on like the proverbial brook, forever.
The reason for this is the liberal policy of the management who with lavish outlay and up-to-date methods succeed each season in giving patrons an enjoyable entertainment full of novelties and hearty laughs. This, the third edition, is by Edgar Selden, author of "A Hot Old Time," said to be the most popular comedy ever written. Mr.
Selden is said to have fairly outdone himself in re-writing the "Pawnbrokers." The fun is fast and furious and the interest never lags. The musical specialties and elaborate scenic investments and the famous beauty chorus make up a surpassingly good attraction.

"Polly" Primrose is the dainty and alluring title of Paul Wistach's new comedy in which Adelaide Thurston has made this season's triumph and the play in which she is to be seen at the Grand opera house on Wednesday evening, March 16, for the Elks' benefit. It is a play of 40 years in quaint and interesting old Georgetown, just outside Washington city. Hoop skirts and peg-top trousers, satin waistcoats and dainty bonnets, flowered shawls and frilled shirts are the fussy and fascinating millinery of this delicious comedy. The men were "clippers" in those days and the girls not slow. The praise of admiring critics can be best believed by those who have made Miss Thurston's acquaintance in other seasons in "Sweet Clover," "At Cozy Corners" and as Lady Babbie in "The Little Minister."

It is not any too often that this city enjoys the luxury of witnessing metropolitan theatrical successes fresh from the crucible, as it were, on the very first tour, and when it does it must appreciate it. This fact is especially accentuated when the treat comes in the shape of a successful opera with a record of 100 consecutive performances, further embellished with the assurance from a reliable management that it will be presented here in its entirety and with all the pomp and grandeur that stamped it a success on its original production.
That is the condition of affairs set forth in the announcement of the production of Willard Spenser's phenom-inally successful comedy opera, "Miss Bob White," which will be seen at the Grand on March 11, with 80 people and a special orchestra.

The four-act comedy drama, "Legally Dead," will be presented Thursday next. Manager Harry Shannon promises one of the best scenic productions of the season, and judging from the flattering press reports at hand, every promise will be fulfilled. The staging of the play is sumptuous. Tons of special scenery and electrical effects are carried. During the action of the play a number of clever singing and dancing specialties will be introduced.

Luigi Von Kunitz, violinist, Daniel
T. Beddoe, tenor, and Miss Anna E.
Griffiths, soprano, three of the most eminent concert artists in the country, will appear here at the concert to be given by Miss Anna Jewell on March 8.

IMPORTANT BILLS UP

Week in Congress Will Be Occupied by Appropriation Measures.

HURRYING WORK OF SESSION

House Has Accomplished Much in Disposing of Routine Legislation—
Committee Hearing in Senator
Smoot's Case Begins To-morrow.

Washington, Feb. 29.—It is expected that both the naval and army appropriation bills will be reported to the senate during the week and it is intended to take them up for consideration as soon as possible, regardless of all other legislation, and henceforth to give the supply bills right of way.

The army appropriation bill has been under consideration by a subcommittee of the military committee for some time and will be taken up early in the week by the full committee, with a probability that it will be reported before the close of the week.
The prospect, however, is that the naval bill will be the first to secure consideration. Tuesday will be devoted to the bill regulating the shipment of government supplies and a vote will be taken on that before adjournment.

The committee on privileges and elections will begin its investigation into the Smoot case to-morrow, and it is also expected that the special committee appointed to inquire into the charges against Senator Dietrich will proceed with its work during the week.

The first week in March finds the house with a very small proportion of the big supply measures awaiting its action. The naval was the eighth of the general appropriation bills that have been disposed of at this session.
The remaining supply bills will be given precedence over other measures, as it is the desire of the leaders to clear up all the regular business of the house as early as possible. The District of Columbia appropriation bill will be taken up next and then will follow the Indian appropriation bill.

SOLDIERS RESCUE NEGRO.

Militia Called Out in Mississippi to Save Suspect from Stake.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 29.—The Greenwood military company has arrived at Jackson, having in charge Albert Baldwin, a negro who is alleged to have killed Engineer Fogarty of the Valley road two weeks ago. The negro was captured at Batesville and was to have been taken to Tutwiler.

When Governor Vardaman learned that the negro was to have been burned he acted promptly to save him. He and Adjutant General Frigate went with the Greenwood company on a special train to Batesville. The sheriff of Panola county had taken every precaution to keep the negro from falling into the hands of the mob.
Before the governor and the militia arrived the negro was taken out of jail and walked to Sardis, 10 miles distant, and back again, so as to keep him out of the way of those looking for him. The governor and the adjutant general report that the trip back to Jackson was made without incident and that no hostile demonstrations occurred.

Washington Correspondent of St.
Louis Republic Asphyxiated.

Washington, Feb. 29.—William S.
Daniels, correspondent of the St.
Louis Republic, was found dead in his office and gas was escaping from a hole in a pipe in the room.

Death evidently was due to gas asphyxiation. Mr. Daniels had entered his office about 4 o'clock and apparently had lighted a gas stove and seated himself before it. The cork fixture by which the gas tube was attached to the stove was broken squarely off and a flow of gas was pouring from the tube and had filled the room. Mr. Daniels was lying on his back on the floor with an overturned chair beside him in a manner to indicate that while lying back in the chair it had been overturned, throwing him to the floor. It is supposed he dozed in the chair and accidentally struck the gas stove, knocking it against the wall and breaking the tube connection and himself becoming unconscious from the blow he received. The coroner gave a certificate of accidental death.

WIDOW SUES FEUDISTS.

Mrs. Marcum Wants $100,000 Damages for Husband's Murder.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 29.—Mrs.
Arabella Marcum for herself and children has filed suit in the circuit court against James Hargis, Alexander Hargis, Edward Callahan and B. F. French for $100,000 damages.
She alleges in her petition that the defendants entered into a conspiracy with Curtis Jett and Tom White to murder her husband, the late J. B.
Marcum. Callahan was formerly sheriff of Breathitt county. Jett and White are now in jail in Louisville.

Anent the postal scandals President Roosevelt says: "It is impossible to expect that corruption will not occasionally occur in any government, but the vital point is the energy, the fearlessness and the efficiency with which such corruption is cut out and the corruptionists punished." There is no likelihood that this vital point will ever be lost sight of while Theodore Roosevelt is president.

David B. Hill as a presidential possibility seems to have been lost sight of by his party. A Democratic statesman who does not spend two-thirds of his time in talking stands a small show in the running.

With elections only once a year, Ohio might lose her distinction as the land of perpetual politics. The question for her voters to ponder is whether she would lose anything else.

Senator Warren examined Senator Tillman's pocket and found a black bottle therein. No one was surprised. No one would have been had the bottle contained raw vitriol.

The introduction of the Hearst boom in Trumbull county has already caused a split in Western Reserve Democracy. It is likely to have that effect wherever it is promulgated.

The work on the Panama canal will be pushed. President Roosevelt never encourages unnecessary delay in anything that is to be done.

D. T. Roy.

On Saturday evening C. H. Blazier received a telegram from Laredo, Tex., announcing the death of his brother-in-law, D. T. Roy. Mr. Roy was a native of Ohio, a civil engineer by occupation, and at the time of his death was superintendent of some of the mines on the Rio Grande.

PAYNE COMMENDED.

President Writes Complimentary Letter to Postmaster General.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The President has sent a letter to Postmaster General Payne in which he says:

"While all the work of the postoffice department and the department of justice in connection with the postal frauds is not yet over, there is already to the credit of the departments, and therefore primarily to your credit, such an amount of substantial achievement that I take this opportunity to congratulate you personally upon it. The success of the prosecutions in this case, as compared with previous experiences in prosecuting government officials who have been guilty of malfeasance or misfeasance, is noteworthy as it is gratifying and must be a source of encouragement to all men who believe in decency and honesty in public life.

"What has been accomplished by you, by those who have worked under you in your department, and by the department of justice, redounds to the credit of our whole people and is a signal triumph for the cause of popular government. If corruption goes unpunished in popular government, the government by the people will ultimately fail; and they are the best friends of the people who make it evident that whoever, in public office, or in connection with public office, sins against the fundamental laws of civic and social well being will be punished with unsparring rigor."

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Quality and Price

Absolute purity and highest quality in all drug store goods with lowest possible prices always—is a combination in force at this store that makes it well worth while going out of your way to come here. Quality is made of chief importance. It is never sacrificed. After that comes price. Our goods are priced at a very close margin of profit. On equally high quality of goods we do not believe there are any lower prices anywhere else.

AT THE THEATER

Joe W. Spears' comedians presenting that ever popular success, "The Irish Pawnbrokers," will be the attraction at the Grand tomorrow evening. This organization is one of the most popular of its kind in existence today, and the comedy now in its fourth successful seasons, bids fair to run on like the proverbial brook, forever. The reason for this is the liberal policy of the management who with lavish outlay and up-to-date methods succeeded each season in giving patrons an enjoyable entertainment full of novelty and hearty laughs. This, the third edition, is by Edgar Selden, author of "A Hot Old Time," said to be the most popular comedy ever written. Mr. Selden is said to have fairly outdone himself in re-writing the "Pawnbrokers." The fun is fast and furious and the interest never lags. The musical specialties and elaborate scenic investments and the famous beauty chorus make up a surpassingly good attraction.

"Polly" Primrose is the dainty and alluring title of Paul Wiltach's new comedy in which Adelaide Thurston has made this season's triumph and the play in which she is to be seen at the Grand opera house on Wednesday evening, March 16, for the Elks' benefit. It is a play of 40 years in quaint and interesting old Georgetown, just outside Washington city. Hoop skirts and peg-top trousers, satin waistcoats and dainty bonnets, flowered shawls and frilled shirts are the fussy and fascinating millinery of this delicious comedy. The men were "clippers" in those days and the girls not slow. The praise of admiring critics can be best believed by those who have made Miss Thurston's acquaintance in other seasons in "Sweet Clover," "At Cozy Corners" and as Lady Babbie in "The Little Minister."

It is not any too often that this city enjoys the luxury of witnessing metropolitan theatrical successes fresh from the crucible, as it were, on the very first tour, and when it does it must appreciate it. This fact is especially accentuated when the treat comes in the shape of a successful opera with a record of 100 consecutive performances, further embellished with the assurance from a reliable management that it will be presented here in its entirety and with all the pomp and grandeur that stamped it a success on its original production. That is the condition of affairs set forth in the announcement of the production of Willard Spenser's phenomenally successful comedy opera, "Miss Bob White," which will be seen at the Grand on March 11, with 80 people and a special orchestra.

The four-act comedy drama, "Legally Dead," will be presented Thursday next. Manager Harry Shannon promises one of the best scenic productions of the season, and judging from the flattering press reports at hand, every promise will be fulfilled. The staging of the play is sumptuous. Tons of special scenery and electrical effects are carried. During the action of the play a number of clever singing and dancing specialties will be introduced.

Luigi Von Kunitz, violinist, Daniel T. Beddoe, tenor, and Miss Anna E. Griffiths, soprano, three of the most eminent concert artists in the country, will appear here at the concert to be given by Miss Anna Jewell on March 8.

CONSUMPTION

Week in Congress Will Be Occupied by Appropriation Measures.

House Has Accomplished Much in Disposing of Routine Legislation—

Smoot's Case Begins To-morrow.

Washington, Feb. 29.—It is expected that both the naval and army appropriation bills will be reported to the senate during the week and it is intended to take them up for consideration as soon as possible, regardless of all other legislation, and henceforth to give the supply bills right of way.

The army appropriation bill has been under consideration by a subcommittee of the military committee for some time and will be taken up early in the week by the full committee, with a probability that it will be reported before the close of the week. The prospect, however, is that the naval bill will be the first to secure consideration. Tuesday will be devoted to the bill regulating the shipment of government supplies and a vote will be taken on that before adjournment.

The committee on privileges and elections will begin its investigation into the Smoot case to-morrow, and it is also expected that the special committee appointed to inquire into the charges against Senator Dietrich will proceed with its work during the week.

The first week in March finds the house with a very small proportion of the big supply measures awaiting its action. The naval was the eighth of the general appropriation bills that have been disposed of at this session. The remaining supply bills will be given precedence over other measures, as it is the desire of the leaders to clear up all the regular business of the house as early as possible. The District of Columbia appropriation bill will be taken up next and then will follow the Indian appropriation bill.

SOLDIERS RESCUE NEGRO.

Militia Called Out in Mississippi to Save Suspect from Stake.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 29.—The Greenwood military company has arrived at Jackson, having in charge Albert Baldwin, a negro who is alleged to have killed Engineer Fogarty of the Valley road two weeks ago. The negro was captured at Batesville and was to have been taken to Tutwiler.

When Governor Vardaman learned that the negro was to have been burned he acted promptly to save him. He and Adjutant General Fridge went with the Greenwood company on a special train to Batesville. The sheriff of Panola county had taken every precaution to keep the negro from falling into the hands of the mob.

Before the governor and the militia arrived the negro was taken out of jail and walked to Sardis, 10 miles distant, and back again, so as to keep him out of the way of those looking for him. The governor and the adjutant general report that the trip back to Jackson was made without incident and that no hostile demonstrations occurred.

GAS KILLS JOURNALIST.

Washington Correspondent of St. Louis Republic Asphyxiated.

Washington, Feb. 29.—William S. Daniels, correspondent of the St. Louis Republic, was found dead in his office and gas was escaping from a hole in a pipe in the room.

Death evidently was due to gas asphyxiation. Mr. Daniels had entered his office about 4 o'clock and apparently had lighted a gas stove and seated himself before it. The cork fixture by which the gas tube was attached to the stove was broken squarely off and a flow of gas was pouring from the tube and had filled the room. Mr. Daniels was lying on his back on the floor with an overturned chair beside him in a manner to indicate that while lying back in the chair it had been overturned, throwing him to the floor. It is supposed he dozed in the chair and accidentally struck the gas stove, knocking it against the wall and breaking the tube connection and himself becoming unconscious from the blow he received. The coroner gave a certificate of accidental death.

WIDOW SUES FEUDISTS.

Mrs. Marcum Wants $100,000 Damages for Husband's Murder.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 29.—Mrs. Arabella Marcum for herself and children has filed suit in the circuit court against James Hargis, Alexander Hargis, Edward Callahan and B. F. French for $100,000 damages.

She alleges in her petition that the defendants entered into a conspiracy with Curtis Jett and Tom White to murder her husband, the late J. B. Marcum. Callahan was formerly sheriff of Breathitt county. Jett and White are now in jail in Louisville.

WELLSVILLE AND VICINITY

LOT OF QUESTIONS TO BE DECIDED

Will Soon Be Known as to the Pumping Station Work.

TRUSTEE MAY STEP IN

Complete the Work Commenced By the Duquesne Engineering Company—The City's Interest in the Matter—Important Conference.

These facts will be known by the water works trustees and tax payers of Wellsville Wednesday: Who will complete the construction of the new pumping station; whether the Iron City Trust company will take up the contract where the Duquesne Engineering company stopped; whether a receiver will be appointed by the Allegheny county courts for the Duquesne company; how much it will cost to complete the station; how much work has already been completed; how much the company has lost or lost by the transaction.

Conferences were held in Pittsburgh Saturday when all these points were considered. Representatives of the city of Wellsville, the Iron City Trust company, the Robert Hunt Engineering company, and the Duquesne Engineering company were at the conference.

While it is a fact that the Duquesne company has asked the court to appoint a receiver for the business, this has not been done. According to the laws of Ohio, receiverships are a thing of the past. If a receiver is appointed for the Duquesne Engineering company, it could not operate in Ohio, taking care of work left uncompleted by the Duquesne company.

The affairs of the Duquesne company can be, it is said, placed in the hands of a trustee, and this trustee would operate in Ohio. It may be that the Iron City Trust company will be appointed as such an officer.

When the contractor of the new Highland reservoir at Pittsburgh failed to complete the contract with the city, Mercantile Trust company, of Pittsburgh, which was on the bond of the contractor, stepped in and completed the work. It is a saying in Pittsburgh now that the work of the trust company as a contractor could not have been excelled. Some city officials hope that the pumping station in Wellsville will be completed by the Iron City Trust company, if such results are to be obtained.

Lawyers and engineers representing the Iron City Trust company attended this conference Saturday, and spent the entire day going over the plans of the Wellsville pumping station. The Trust company is to render a decision by Wednesday as to whether it will take up the construction of the pumping station where the Duquesne company stopped. If so, no receiver will be appointed by the courts for the company. The Trust company is on the bond and holds notes of the Duquesne company, it is said, and will rush work on the new station if the decision is made to start the work.

U. S. Johnson, of Canton, representing a bonding company, which is interested in the work, will be at Pittsburgh Wednesday, to attend the next conference between all the parties interested. It is possible that some of the water works trustees of Wellsville will attend this meeting, although this matter has not been decided definitely.

A city official of Wellsville today said:

Compound Syrup of White Pine With Tar

Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. And also for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease. Prepared at HODSON'S
DRUG STORE,
5th and Broadway.

"The water works trustees have been advised that 78 per cent of the construction of the new pumping station has been completed. The contract price of the Duquesne company was $11,004, which was about $10,000 less than the next lowest bidder at the time the bids were opened. The Duquesne company, since it was organized, was successful in its operations, but a mistake was made when it entered a bid for the Wellsville contract. Bad luck has befallen the firm since it started work in Wellsville. Only a few weeks ago, another part of the tunnel caved in, causing a loss of $2,000 to the firm.

"The machinery the company has been using at the pumping station is leased property, and because of this, no attachments can be issued against it. The firm owns no materials on the grounds used for construction purposes. Twenty per cent of the estimates have been held out by the city, and this is all against which an attachment can be issued. If given a fair chance, the pumping station can be completed, and in the end the city will be the gainer, by having a good job completed and at a reasonable cost."

A HORSE IS PURCHASED

And the New Patrol Wagon of Wellsville Is Now in Running Order.

A horse owned by Edward K. Anderson has been purchased for use at the Thirteenth street house. While no meeting was held by the board of safety Friday evening, Fireman Russell went to the Anderson stables Saturday noon and asked for the dapple gray horse, which was the last one to be tried in the new combination fire-patrol wagon Wednesday last. The horse was valued at $200.

It was taken to the horse house, and after the harness was adjusted to fit it the animal was placed in its new stall, ready to answer any and all calls. The collar was too small for it and it has to be altered. The harness cost the city about $75.

When the patrolmen became aware that the horse was at the house, the streets were searched for the first victim. Each patrolman bet the other he would be the first one to call the wagon for the first victim. All hoped that an East Liverpool man would be the first one to ride in the new wagon under police protection, as a Wellsville man was the first victim of the East Liverpool police when the patrol system was installed there.

Patrolmen McIlvane and Williams scanned the West End for a victim, but failed. Chief Houser was not far behind them, and he picked up an Italian who was carrying concealed weapons, a large dirk knife. The chief did not call the wagon for this victim, but took him to jail in the street car. When the other patrolmen learned what their chief had done they were put out, for it was their intention to call the wagon.

Many people visited the house Saturday night to inspect the building and wagon, also to see the new horse. All were well pleased with the outfit. Fireman Russell is pleased to explain the working of the "experiment station," as it is called by some city officials, and Mayor Fogo hopes that all taxpayers avail themselves of the opportunity to inspect the building.

The horse sold to the city by Mr. Anderson was formerly owned by William Feazel, a grocer, of Avondale street. It was bought by Mr. Anderson last fall.

PERFECT HARMONY

Prevailed at the Republican Ward Caucuses—Central Committee Elected.

Ward caucuses were held by Republicans of Wellsville Saturday evening. Incidents prove that perfect harmony exists in the ranks. It is announced that never were the caucuses so largely attended as those of Saturday. In all about 200 Republicans attended the ward meetings held for the purpose of selecting central committeemen.

In the First ward the caucus was held in the council chamber. The session was a very short one, lasting but a few minutes. These central committeemen were selected: W. C. Gostz, E. C. Taylor and Daniel F. Steiner.

The Second ward caucus was held at the office of Justice A. G. MacKenzie, Main and Ninth streets. The room was crowded. Committeemen selected from this ward are: Andrew Brannon, Edward Martin and Jonathan McQueen.

The caucus in the Third ward was held at the Thirteenth street house and about 100 men were at the meeting. Committeemen from this ward are: City Auditor Charles McGregor, Emmet McKenzie and C. P. Smith.

Sixty Republicans gathered at the office of Moore Bros. on Eighteenth street to attend the Fourth ward caucus. Committeemen from this ward are: W. J. Gloss, Ed Satow and T. P. Ferguson.

The new committeemen will meet probably Wednesday for organization. The slate, as it was this morning, is: Chairman, John McQueen; secretary, E. C. Taylor; treasurer, City Auditor Charles McGregor.

The committee will meet at all events next Saturday night in council chamber.

GRANITE VAULT FAVORED

Bids for the Improvement at Spring Hill Cemetery Will Be Opened Tomorrow.

Bids for the construction of a receiving vault in Spring Hill cemetery will be opened tomorrow noon by the board of service. Some bids are now in the hands of Clerk Sinclair, but others will probably be presented to the board tomorrow morning.

Rufus Rogers, who has entered plans for a granite vault with the board, deposited a check with the board last week. His bid was to be presented to the board today. In this bid will be specified what grade of granite is to be used and other detailed information. As was exclusively stated in this paper last week, the board had no specifications to guide them at the time the plans were filed.

Some claimed that specifications were received, but Mr. Rogers is authority for the statement that no specifications were filed with the board at the time the plans were. Persons who came to Wellsville to bid on some plans said that no contractor would enter a bid on the plans because there were no detailed specifications to work upon.

Bids are being entered for a vault to be built of brick, sandstone and granite. The board to a member is in favor of a granite vault, provided it can be built within the appropriated amount, $3,000.

MAY STAY IN TOWN

Decision Not Reached As to Proposed Removal of Stevenson Foundry.

No decision has been announced by the Stevenson Foundry & Machine company as to where they propose to move their factory. Some believe that the firm will reconsider their plan to remove from the city and remain in Wellsville.

The company engaged an engineer to survey the property about the plant last week, and his report has been filed with the company. It is claimed that if the company so construct their new plant so that it will be out of the way of higher water, improvements will be made to the local plant and that the

GRAND PRIZE FOR BALL TEAM

May 15 is the day set by the News Review to give the amateur base ball nine, which has the greatest number of subscribers for this paper by that date, a complete outfit, consisting of suits made to order for each individual member, stockings, caps, belts, bats, balls, mask, gloves, etc. The prize is the best ever offered by any newspaper in this city to boys, and every ball team in this vicinity should at once enter the contest.

A member of the firm is quoted as saying that the firm is tired of having their factory flooded at every high water, and that is about the only reason the proposition to remove from Wellsville was given any serious consideration. It is possible that some definite announcement as to the future intentions of the company will be made this week.

REAL ESTATE SALES

One Agency Reports Transfers of Property Amounting to About $16,000.

The transfer of property in Wellsville valued at almost $16,000 has been recorded within the past fortnight, and all through the J. Wesley Russell agency.

Within the past three days Mr. Russell sold to Mr. and Mrs. Stubbs a seven-room property in the Hill addition for $2,400. The William Grafton property, a house of five rooms, was also sold to Mrs. Vella Russell for $1,000. Another sale through the same agency was that of a lot in the Hill addition valued at $400, which was transferred to E. W. Rogers.

A number of other sales through this agency are pending, many of which are expected to be closed this week.

SOCIAL EVENTS

New Century Club.

The New Century club held a very interesting meeting on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. McLean on Cadmus and Oak streets. The papers were especially fine and an interesting musical program added much pleasure to the session. "The Life of Oliver Cromwell" was Mrs. Deatty's subject, but in her absence a paper on this subject, well written by Miss Isabel McLean, was read at the meeting. Mrs. Gipner read a paper on "John Milton" and spoke in a fitting manner upon the work of the blind poet. Mrs. Holloway had charge of the musical program, and in a very pleasing manner rendered several piano solos, among them being "The Russian Recruiting Song." Miss Isabel McLean also rendered several piano solos, and Miss Georgia McLean sang several vocal solos, and entertained the guests admirably. The next meeting will be held on March 12 at the residence of Miss K. S. Harker on Walnut street.

Arrangements for Bazaar.

Arrangements are progressing favorably for the hospital bazaar, to be given in the new hospital building on Sixth street March 24, 25 and 26. LOT OF QUESTIONS
TO BE DECIDED

Will Soon Be Known as to the Pumping Station Work.

Complete the Work Commenced By the Duquesne Engineering Company—The City's Interest in the Matter—Important Conference.

These facts will be known by the water works trustees and tax payers of Wellsville Wednesday: Who will complete the construction of the new pumping station; whether the Iron City Trust company will take up the contract where the Duquesne Engineering company stopped; whether a receiver will be appointed by the Allardy county courts for the Duquesne company; how much it will cost to complete the station; how much work has already been completed; how much the company has lost and how much the city has either saved or lost by the transaction.

Conferences were held in Pittsburgh Saturday when all these points were considered. Representatives of the city of Wellsville, the Iron City Trust company, the Robert Hunt Engineering company, and the Duquesne Engineering company were at the conference.

While it is a fact that the Duquesne company has asked the court to appoint a receiver for the business, this has not been done. According to the laws of Ohio, receiverships are a thing of the past. If a receiver is appointed for the Duquesne Engineering company, it could not operate in Ohio, tak-
the Duquesne company.

The affairs of the Duquesne company can be, it is said, placed in the hands of a trustee, and this trustee could operate in Ohio. It may be that the Iron City Trust company will be appointed as such an officer.

When the contractor of the new Highland reservoir at Pittsburgh failed to complete the contract with the city, the Mercantile Trust company, of Pittsburgh, which was on the bond of the contractor, stepped in and completed the work. It is a saying in Pittsburgh now that the work of the trust company as a contractor could not have been excelled. Some city officials hope that the pumping station in Wellsville will be completed by the Iron City Trust company, if such results are to be obtained.

Lawyers and engineers representing the Iron City Trust company attended this conference Saturday, and spent the entire day going over the plans of the Wellsville pumping station. The Trust company is to render a decision by Wednesday as to whether it will take up the construction of the pumping station where the Duquesne company stopped. If so, no receiver will be appointed by the courts for the company. The Trust company is on the bond and holds notes of the Duquesne company, it is said, and will rush work on the new station if the decision is made to start the work.

U. S. Johnson, of Canton, representing a bonding company, which is interested in the work, will be at Pittsburgh Wednesday, to attend the next conference between all the parties interested. It is possible that some of the water works trustees of Wellsville will attend this meeting, although this matter has not been decided definitely.

A city official of Wellsville today said:

Compound

and COLDS,

Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. And also for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease. Prepared at

HODSON'S
DRUG STORE,
5th and Broadway.

"The water works trustees have been advised that 78 per cent of the construction of the new pumping station has been completed. The contract price of the Duquesne company was $11,004, which was about $10,000 less than the next lowest bidder at the time the bids were opened. The Duquesne company, since it was organized, was successful in its operations, but a mistake was made when it entered a bid for the Wellsville contract. Bad luck has befallen the firm since it started work in Wellsville.
Only a few weeks ago, another part of the tunnel caved in, causing a loss of $2,000 to the firm.

"The machinery the company has been using at the pumping station is leased property, and because of this,
no attachments can be issued against it. The firm owns no materials on the grounds used for construction purposes. Twenty per cent of the estimates have been held out by the city, and this is all against which an attachment can be issued. If given a fair chance, the pumping station can be completed, and in the end the city will be the gainer, by having a good job completed and at a reasonable cost."

A HORSE IS PURCHASED

And the New Patrol Wagon of Wells-ville Is Now in Running Order.

A horse owned by Edward K. Anderson has been purchased for use at the Thirteenth street hose house. While no meeting was held by the board of safety Friday evening, Fireman Russell went to the Anderson stables Saturday noon and asked for the dapple gray horse, which was the last one to be tried in the new combination fire-patrol wagon Wednesday last. The horse was valued at $200.

It was taken to the hose house, and after the harness was adjusted to fit it the animal was placed in its new stall, ready to answer any and all calls.
The collar was too small for it and it has to be altered. The harness cost the city about $75.

When the patrolmen became aware that the horse was at the house, the streets were searched for the first victim. Each patrolman bet the other he would be the first one to call the wagon for the first victim. All hoped that an East Liverpool man would be the first one to ride in the new wagon
under police protection, as a Wellsville man was the first victim of the East Liverpool police when the patrol system was installed there.

Patrolmen McIlvane and Williams scanned the West End for a victim, but failed. Chief Houser was not far behind them, and he picked up an Italian who was carrying concealed weapons, a large dirk knife. The chief did not call the wagon for this victim, but took him to jail in the street car. When the other patrolmen learned what their chief had done they were put out, for it was their intention to call the wagon.

Many people visited the house Saturday night to inspect the building and wagon, also to see the new horse. All were well pleased with the outfit. Fireman Russell is pleased to explain the working of the "experiment station,"
as it is called by some city officials, and Mayor Fogo hopes that all taxpayers avail themselves of the opportunity to inspect the building.

The horse sold to the city by Mr. Anderson was formerly owned by William Feazel, a grocer, of Avondale street. It was bought by Mr. Anderson last fall.

PERFECT HARMONY

Prevailed at the Republican Ward Caucuses—Central Committeemen Elected.

Ward caucuses were held by Republicans of Wellsville Saturday evening.
Incidents prove that perfect harmony exists in the ranks. It is announced that never were the caucuses so largely attended as those of Saturday. In all about 200 Republicans attended the ward meetings held for the purpose of selecting central committeemen.

In the First ward the caucus was held in the council chamber. The session was a very short one, lasting but a few minutes. These central committeemen were selected: W. C. Goetz, E. C. Taylor and Daniel F. Steiner.

The Second ward caucus was held at the office of Justice A. G. MacKenzie, Main and Ninth streets. The room was crowded. Committeemen selected from this ward are: Andrew Brannon, Edward Martin and Jonathan Mc-Queen.

The caucus in the Third ward was held at the Thirteenth street hose house and about 100 men were at the meeting. Committeemen from this ward are: City Auditor Charles Mc-Gregor, Emmet McKenzie and C. P.
Smith.

Sixty Republicans gathered at the office of Moore Bros. on Eighteenth street to attend the Fourth ward caucus. Committeemen from this ward

GRANITE VAULT FAVORED

Bids for the Improvement at Spring Hill Cemetery Will Be Opened Tomorrow.

Bids for the construction of a receiving vault in Spring Hill cemetery will be opened tomorrow noon by the board of service. Some bids are now in the hands of Clerk Sinclair, but others will probably be presented to the board tomorrow morning.

Rufus Rogers, who has entered plans for a granite vault with the board, deposited a check with the board last week. His bid was to be presented to the board today. In this bid will be specified what grade of granite is to be used and other detailed information. As was exclusively stated in this paper last week, the board had no specifications to guide them at the time the plans were filed.

Some claimed that specifications were received, but Mr. Rogers is authority for the statement that no specifications were filed with the board at the time the plans were. Persons who came to Wellsville to bid on some plans said that no contractor would enter a bid on the plans because there were no detailed specifications to work upon.

Bids are being entered for a vault to be built of brick, sandstone and granite. The board to a member is in favor of a granite vault, provided it can be built within the appropriated amount, $3,000.

Decision Not Reached As to Proposed Removal of Stevenson Foundry.

No decision has been announced by the Stevenson Foundry & Machine company as to where they propose to move their factory. Some believe that the firm will reconsider their plan to remove from the city and remain in Wellsville.

The company engaged an engineer to survey the property about the plant
last week, and his report has been filed with the company. It is claimed that if the company so construct their new plant so that it will be out of the way of higher water, improvements will be made to the local plant and that the company will not move.

A member of the firm is quoted as saying that the firm is tired of having their factory flooded at every high water, and that is about the only reason the proposition to remove from Wellsville was given any serious consideration. It is possible that some definite announcement as to the future intentions of the company will be made this week.

REAL ESTATE SALES

One Agency Reports Transfers of Property Amounting to About $16,000.

The transfer of property in Wells-ville valued at almost $16,000 has been recorded within the past fortnight, and all through the J. Wesley Russell agency.

Within the past three days Mr. Russell sold to Mr. and Mrs. Stubbins a seven-room property in the Hill addition for $2,400. The William Grafton property, a house of five rooms, was also sold to Mrs. Vella Russell for $1,000. Another sale through the same agency was that of a lot in the Hill addition valued at $400, which was transferred to E. W. Rogers.

A number of other sales through this agency are pending, many of which are expected to be closed this week.

New Century Club.

The New Century club held a very interesting meeting on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. Mc-Lean on Cadmus and Oak streets. The papers were especially fine and an interesting musical program added much pleasure to the session. "The Life of Oliver Cromwell" was Mrs.
Beatty's subject, but in her absence
a paper on this subject, well written by Miss Isabel McLean, was read at the meeting. Mrs. Gipner read a paper on "John Milton" and spoke in a fitting manner upon the work of the blind poet. Mrs. Holloway had charge of the musical program, and in a very pleasing manner rendered several piano solos, among them being "The Russian Recruiting Song." Miss Isabel McLean also rendered several piano solos, and Miss Georgia McLean sang several vocal solos, and entertained the guests admirably. The next meeting will be held on March 12

GREAT RECORD OF LOCAL TEAM

Basket Ball Enthusiasts Proud of the Success of This City's Five.

THE INDIVIDUAL SCORES

Are Remarkable, Taking Everything Into Account—Only Four Games Lost Out of 23 Played—National Championship Competition.

While the game of basket ball is not so prolific of "dope" as base ball, still there is plenty of opportunity for any person mathematically inclined to do a little figuring. Like the great American game, the cold numerals do not always give the individual player full credit or show an his failures, but from them can be secured a pretty good line on the work of a team as compared with its opponents.

The score of a basket ball game fails to provide an equivalent to a batting average, and there is nothing to correspond to the error column in base ball, but interesting facts, if not averages, can be shown. The individual records of the local players, given herewith, are particularly interesting at this time, owing to the publication yesterday in the Pittsburgh Dispatch of similar records of the players in the Allegheny county league.

In compiling the accompanying tables the official records of the club, kept by Charles Ferguson, the club's scorer, were used, although the figures tally exactly with the printed scores. The newspaper scorers, however, do not make any record of failures on foul throws.

This season the local five has played 23 games, 17 of which were won, 4 lost and one tied. Fourteen straight games have been won since the last of the quartet of defeats was administered by Manchester.

It is unnecessary to comment upon the meaning of the great per cent of victories for that the local five is a strong claimant for the championship of the United States is known to be a fact, not mere idle boasting. The chances are that the team will not be beaten again this season.

Including the games played away from home, the local five has met and defeated the following teams this season:

- Freedom, November 3, 27 to 11.
- New Castle, November 12, 63 to 8.
- Beaver College, November 17, 45 to 21.
- Freedom, November 26, 28 to 8.
- Sharon, November 28, 44 to 10.
- D. C. & A. C., December 25, 28 to 16.
- Franklin A. C., December 29, 39 to 19.
- Franklin A. C., December 30, 38 to 22.
- Pittsburg Five, January 12, 37 to 26.
- Fayette, January 19, 37 to 12.
- Manchester, January 26, 28 to 16.
- Pittsburg Lyceum, February 2, 48 to 5.

THE EAST LIVERPOOL BASKET BALL FIVE

The team is fast winning the championship of Ohio and Pennsylvania and will contest for the championship of the United States.

Powell, forward. Watkin, guard. Chadwick, guard. Frank Gallimore, Manager. Rigby, Center. Allison, forward. Bloor, forward.

Homestead, February 5, 79 to 14. Alliance, February 9, 108 to 16. Syracuse, February 16, 32 to 18. Westminster, February 19, 47 to 9. Grove City, February 23, 56 to 29. Indiana, February 26, 32 to 13.

Two teams have won against the locals, Southside and Manchester each winning two. The scores were: Southside 28 and 14, East Liverpool 22 and 10; Manchester, 32 and 36, East Liverpool 20 and 24. The drawn game was with Westminster college, each five scoring 31 points.

Chadwick is the only player of the six who has played in both halves of the 23 games. In the second half of the Alliance game he retired in favor of Powell for the last seven minutes of the play, which permitted the "tall sycamore" to make his great record of seven goals in seven minutes. The first consideration of the fan in sizing up the individual record of the players should be the number of games the player has been engaged in. The following table shows the number of games and half games, the number of goals and fouls and the total number of points made by the six players:

Player	G.	1/2 G.	F.	G.	F.	T. P.
Allison	19	2	92	21	205
Bloor	9	14	46	0	92
Powell	6	11	58	2	118
Rigby	22	1	128	59	313
Watkin	20	1	42	6	90
Chadwick	23	0	29	43	101

In the 23 games represented above the opponents of the local five scored 150 field goals, or just 22 more than Rigby alone. The comparison of the work of the local five and opponents is most interesting. The comparison is easily seen in the following figures:

Opponents 150	114	414
-----------	-----------	-----	-----

The local players lack but a few points of double the number of their opponents' total score. The locals also excelled in making foul throws, although there is great room in this part of the play. In making 121 throws the local players missed 130 chances. Their opponents in making 114 throws missed 127 chances. Chadwick in making 43 throws missed 55, Watkin in making 6 throws missed 1, Rigby in making 59 missed 58, Powell in making 2 missed 3 and Allison in making 21 missed 13.

Lothar, of the Southside, was the Leibau, of the Southside five, who leads the Allegheny league in individual work, has scored but 40 field goals in 14 games; Graham, of Manchester, is second with 24 in 15 games. Both players have great foul records, however, Leibau having made 104 and Graham 80.

No player can equal the record of Dick Rigby, the fast center of the local five, and several of the other local players have excelled the work of the Allegheny county champions. Rigby's record is most remarkable and shows that player to be in a class by himself.

Salem Pottery Team.

A number of the young men of the Salem pottery have taken up the matter of organizing a second baseball team for Salem during the coming season, and have about perfected their arrangements. The team will be known as the "Shamrocks," and has already ordered the service suits, which will be trimmed in blue.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

New York bowlers took $4,000 out of Chicago.

Comiskey will not release Catcher McFarland.

Lon Dillon is doing light work to saddle at Memphis.

Columbus will have nothing but dash races and two-in-three heats.

Abe Attell, the 122-pound feather-weight champion, is 19 years old.

Young Corbett carries fewer scars than any other pugilist in the ring.

"Doc" Harry White wants to be transferred to the Washington team.

Frank Sullivan, of Chicago, recently swam 228 feet under water. New record.

McGovern will rest until June, when he will start another formal campaign for his old title.

Denial is made of the story that horses owned by the late Millionaire W. C. Whitney will be sold at once.

Work on New Bridges.

Lisbon, February 29.—(Special.)—U. V. Gaskill, of Lisbon, who, as the representative of the Ohio Steel Erecting company, of Steubenville, has been superintending the construction of the two county bridges at North Georgetown and Negley, completed the one at North Georgetown last Friday. The old bridge had to be removed about nine months ago and the people of that vicinity were subjected to considerable inconvenience, while the bridge was being replaced. The bridge at Negley is also nearly completed.

Count Mutsu Under the Knife.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Count Mutsu, the first secretary of the Japanese legation, has been operated upon for appendicitis.

APPEAL FOR JUSTICE.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 29.—The Age Herald publishes the following letter from Booker T. Washington:

"Within the last fortnight three members of my race have been burned at the stake; of these one was a woman. Not one of the three was charged with any crime even remotely connected with the abuse of a white woman. In every case murder was the sole accusation. All of these burnings took place in broad daylight and two of them occurred on Sunday afternoon in sight of a Christian church.

"Is it not possible for the pulpit and press to speak out against these burnings in a manner that will arouse a public sentiment that will compel our governments and our legal authority and cease bringing shame and ridicule upon our Christian civilization?"

S.S.S. THE BEST TONIC

In S. S. S. Nature has provided a tonic suited every requirement of the system when in a debilitated run down condition. It contains no strong mineral drugs, but is a pleasant vegetable preparation. You can find no better remedy for toning up the nerves and bringing refreshing, restful sleep in a low state of health, or sick and worn out with work or worry.

S. S. S. improves the appetite, aids the digestion and reinforces the system, and its good effects are seen almost from the first dose. It acts promptly in cases of chronic dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles, and does away with the uncomfortable fullness, nausea, shortness of breath, drowsiness and dizziness that so often come after eating.

S. S. S. is not only the best tonic but possesses alterative or purifying properties, and if there is any humor or poison in the system, it searches it out, and removes it. Many times a low state of health is due to a bad condition of the blood and can only be remedied by a blood purifier and tonic combined, or such a remedy as S. S. S.

If you suffer from debility, insomnia, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion, or any of the symptoms of a disordered blood, nothing will so soon put your blood in good condition, invigorate and tone up the system as S. S. S.

TWO KINDS OF CHILDREN

Children that grow too fast and those that seem hardly to grow at all, both need Scott's Emulsion.

It gives that rich vital nourishment which is the secret of all healthy growth. It rounds out the long limbs, and helps children to grow without using up all their strength in growing.

Mothers ought to know more about the wonderful help which Scott's Emulsion would give their children.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 29.—The Age Herald publishes the following letter from Booker T. Washington:

"Within the last fortnight three members of my race have been burned at the stake; of these one was a woman. Not one of the three was charged with any crime even remotely connected with the abuse of a white woman. In every case murder was the sole accusation. All of these burnings took place in broad daylight and two of them occurred on Sunday afternoon in sight of a Christian church.

"These burnings without trial are in the deepest sense unjust to my race; but it is not this injustice alone which stirs my heart. These barbarous scenes, followed as they are by the publication of the shocking details, are more disgraceful and degrading to the people who inflict punishment than those who receive it.

"Is it not possible for the pulpit and press to speak out against these burnings in a manner that will arouse a public sentiment that will compel the mob to cease insulting our courts, our governments and our legal authority and cease bringing shame and ridicule upon our Christian civilization?"

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that their is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SSS THE BEST TONIC

In S. S. S. Nature has provided a tonic for every requirement of the system when in a debilitated condition. It contains no strong mineral drugs, but is a pleasant vegetable preparation. You can find no remedy for toning up the nerves and bringing refreshing, restful sleep in a low state of health, or sick and worn out with work or worry.

I have no hesitancy in recommending your S. S. S. as the best Spring tonic on the market. I have many other medicines, but find S. S. S. to be the only one that will build up the system and take pleasure in telling all whom I know of a good blood tonic of your medicine.

Yours truly, C. E. BOHLEN, Hamilton & Co., Lehigh Valley, Pa.

S. S. S. improves the digestion, aids the appetite, and reinforces the system, and its good effects are seen almost from the first dose. It acts promptly in cases of chronic dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles and does away with the uncomfortable fullness, nausea, shortness of breath and dizziness that so often come after eating.

S. S. S. is not only the best tonic but possesses alternative or purgative properties, and if there is any taint, humor or poison in the blood, it searches it out, and removes it. Many times a low state of health, to a bad condition of the blood and can only be remedied by a blood purifier and tonic combined, or such a remedy as S. S. S.

If you suffer from debility, insomnia, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion, or any of the symptoms of a disordered blood, nothing so soon put your blood in good condition, invigorate and tone up system as S. S. S.

CHAPTER II.

LEAGUES and leagues away from where the summer was come golden sandaled over Virginia, throbbing now with all the pent up intolerance of years of repression and smothered resentment, a ship which had been strained and pummeled by two months packed with tempest unfolded new canvas under the crumbling splendors of a clearing sky. The day drew breezily serene. The sea had tired itself out, and the sun burned pleasantly in the blue.

One of the few passengers whom the softening weather had drawn into the air—a young Frenchman, fair, slight, well knit and soberly garbed in gray—leaned upon the forward rail, with shoulders squared to the sunshine, and looked below him.

No mart of the old world could have shown a more strangely assorted company than did the lower deck of the brigantine Two Sisters out of London, bound for Yorktown, Va. Swarming to the bulwarks was a motley herd of redemptioners—a few young women of fair color, English country girls from the farm lands, looking forward to new things and a rosy marriage in this new land which beckoned to every creed and nation; more were harder faces, toll sharpened—men who had worked their trade soberly to yield at last to the spur of ambition and barter six years of plantation labor for a passage to opportunity. Indeed, so greedy were the plantation factors of hands that more than one colony was made to hold open arms to the old world's vagrants, its felons and its fags.

Now the creatures who had wallowed in sullen waiting or cried shrilly to their saints were still or babbling of other things. From the rigging a tarred mariner bawled his lay of "Bold Jack In the Ways," and the few passengers, who had weathered the storm grumbling or dicing below deck, were sunning themselves upon the poop.

The young Frenchman shifted his slow gaze from the redemptioners and let it run far out over the water, watching the little spots of foam that marbled the great waste. He was undeniably good looking, of an elusive, beardless charm, with a forehead graver than his mouth. His hair was rich brown, long and curling, for he wore no wig, and his finely cut lips were set over a chin of bold delicacy. His eyes were full and hazel, his expression one of zest and eagerness.

On this day as he leaned against the rail a man was watching him intently from where he stood, farther back. The

"Ah!" smirked Jarrat. "Our French gentleman is a poor sailor."

But as the days went by it became certain that the distinguished passenger was ill of a less passing malady than mal de mer.

On an evening the captain pushed open a narrow cabin door at the end of a passage, but before he could enter a young man sprang up and barred the way.

"I would see the Marquis de la Trouerie," said Jarrat.

"You cannot see him, monsieur," the young man's tone was very firm.

"Who are you?"

"The marquis's secretary, monsieur."

Jarrat took a gold crown from his pocket and offered it to the other with the easy effrontery of one perfectly certain of his ground. Every underling, it was his belief, had his price, from lackeys to prime ministers. It is a theory which on the whole works not badly.

The man before him, however, was of another sort. He put the coin back. "You cannot see the marquis, monsieur," he repeated.

"Cannot, you whelp!" said Jarrat, with his tongue on his lip and in the soft tone which with him covered a white boil of rage. A copper lantern, pierced with holes, threw yellow beams down the passage, and in this glare the young man on the threshold saw his face, evilly beautiful and distorted.

The coin rattled on the floor.

The young Frenchman stooped to pick up a gold piece. "Monsieur has dropped his crown," he said, holding it out.

Jarrat took it and thrust it into his pocket. "It was too small a douceur," he said easily, "oh, master secretary?"

Most of those on the ship did not know, so insular were the prejudices of the Anglo-Saxon, that the Marquis de la Trouerie was a personage in his own country. Even Caron de Beaumarchais, son of a watchmaker, that airy, naive, fantastic charlatan who at the age of twenty-four had washed his hands at his father's shop, changed his clothes and gone to court to give the four daughters of Louis XV. lessons on the harp—even he was less welcome at the Tuileries or less a favorite of the young Queen Marie Antoinette than this same nobleman now aboard the Two Sisters.

It is perhaps not to be wondered at that the passengers knew little of such things and doubtless for the most part cared less. Two Annapolis merchants, loyal since the nonimportation agreements had pinched their pockets; a brace of London factors looking for likely agencies; a Virginian fresh from study in the Middle Temple, bound for the woolstack at Lancaster; a British quartermaster journeying to Boston—what should such a company know of Gallie pedigrees or the chatter of the French court?

A diplomat might have found in the presence of the marquis something to ponder. For at that time strange things were stirring. Louis XVI., young, enthusiastic, unaccustomed, was learning for the first how exceeding difficult it is to be a king. M. Turgot, his grim old minister of finance, logical, pitiless, cold as a dog's nose, was pulling one way; Beaumarchais, brilliant as a chameleon, fascinating, egotist, intimate of a French queen, was pulling another.

And what was the bone of contention? Whether France should give her treasure to the secret aid of the American colonies. With such counsels in the air England slept, like a surly bull, with one eye open. She watched at home, and her astute ambassador, Lord Stormont, kept a hawk's eye upon the Tuileries.

So, in itself, there was an interest for those who knew, attaching to the sudden journeying to America of this man, so near to the French counsels, at once a noble, a courtier and a republican. And this interest was intensified for Jarrat, who, mindful of the letter he carried of confidential import, hugged the reflection that he knew the reason for it.

Jarrat, like many another schemer, made the error of undervaluing the intellectuality of an opponent. He had small idea that the marquis's young secretary was observant in his turn. It was nevertheless the fact. But M. Armand, who had scented him very early, kept his cabin, and no one aboard—the ship carried no leech—saw his master.

Four days after the episode of the skipper crown Jarrat tried the skipper again.

Passenger Ship Catches Fire During Terrific Storm at Sea.

FOURTEEN PERSONS ARE LOST

Lifeboats Launched, But Are Overwhelmed by the Waves and Occupants Drowned—Crew Battles Manfully Against Blaze.

Port Townsend, Wash., Feb. 29.—After suffering the most harrowing experience from fire and storm that has ever befallen a craft on the North Pacific coast the steamer Queen put in here to report the loss of 14 lives.

About 3:45 o'clock Saturday morning, while off the mouth of the Columbia river, the Queen caught fire in her after saloon in some unexplained way. The fire rapidly gained headway and threatened soon to envelop the whole ship. The heavy seas running meant death to any sent away in the lifeboats. The flames became more and more threatening, until, when it seemed a choice of deaths, Capt. Cousins ordered the lifeboats launched. They were manned by the crew and ordered to remain close to the ship. Into these the women and children were placed. Hardly, however, had the boats been cast loose than unable to weather the fierce waves two of them capsized.

The passengers and those of the crew who remained on board continued their fight against the flames with increasing success until 7:40 a. m., when the fire was brought under control. When it was thought the danger from fire was past Capt. Cousins recalled the lifeboats and the occupants were taken aboard.

The Queen was headed for the mouth of the Columbia river and about 9 o'clock the steamer Santa Monica was sighted. The Queen signaled and asked her to stand by until temporary repairs could be made. When everything had been made safe the Queen continued on to the mouth of the Columbia, only to find the bar was too rough to cross in. The distressed craft was pointed toward Puget Sound, but bad fortune still pursued her and when she rounded Cape Flattery she encountered a terrific electrical storm. With difficulty she weathered the gale, reached here without further mishap and proceeded to Seattle, where she arrived about midnight.

Ten of those who lost their lives were spilled out of the small boats. Three men waiters on the vessel were suffocated before they could reach the outer air from their bunks in the rear part of the ship and one woman died later from exposure.

According to stories told by passengers and the crew the vessel was off Tillamook and about 30 miles from land when the fire was discovered. There was a heavy sea on and the ship was pitching badly. When smoke was discovered coming out of the social hall on the after main deck of the vessel the crew was immediately hurried out and the small boats manned, while the stewards went from cabin to cabin waking up the passengers.

A Cure For Eczema. My baby had eczema so bad that its head was a solid mass of scabs, and its hair all came out. CHAPTER II.

LEAGUES and leagues away from where the summer was come golden sandaled over Virginia, throbbing now with all the pent up intolerance of years of repression and smothered resentment, a ship which had been strained and pummeled by two months packed with tempest unfolded new canvas under the crumbling splendors of a clearing sky. The day drew breezily serene. The sea had tired itself out, and the sun burned pleasantly in the blue.

One of the few passengers whom the softening weather had drawn into the air—a young Frenchman, fair, slight, well knit and soberly garbed in gray—leaned upon the forward rail, with shoulders squared to the sunshine, and looked below him.

No mart of the old world could have shown a more strangely assorted company than did the lower deck of the brigantine Two Sisters out of London, bound for Yorktown, Va. Swarming to the bulwarks was a motley herd of redemptioners—a few young women of fair color, English country girls from the farm lands, looking forward to new things and a rosy marriage in this new land which beckoned to every creed and nation; more were harder faced, toil sharpened—men who had worked their trade soberly to yield at last to the spur of ambition and barter six years of plantation labor for a passage to opportunity. Indeed, so greedy were the plantation factors of hands that more than one colony was made to hold open arms to the old world's vagrants, its felons and its dregs.

Now the creatures who had wallowed in sullen waiting or cried shrilly to their saints were still or babbling of other things. From the rigging a tarred mariner bawled his lay of "Bold Jack in the Ways," and the few passengers, who had weathered the storm grumbling or dicing below deck, were sunning themselves upon the poop.

The young Frenchman shifted his slow gaze from the redemptioners and let it run far out over the water, watching the little spots of foam that marbled the great waste. He was undeniably good looking, of an elusive, beardless charm, with a forehead grayer than his mouth. His hair was rich brown, long and curling, for he wore no wig, and his finely cut lips were set over a chin of bold delicacy. His eyes were full and hazel, his expression one of zest and eagerness.

On this day as he leaned against the rail a man was watching him intently from where he stood, farther back. The man's name was Jarrat, and he wore the uniform of a captain in his majesty's horse.

"You cannot see him," man's name was Jarrat, and he wore the uniform of a captain in his majesty's horse.

To relate that Captain Jarrat had carried his handsome face and dominating bearing aboard the ship on the day of sailing, with a letter from Lord Stormont, British ambassador in Paris, hidden in his breast pocket, is to go back a bit. Jarrat was close mouthed. As far as the other passengers were concerned he was a British officer returning to the Virginias. To a nice eye he would have betrayed an overintimate curiosity as to a certain passenger.

The second day out he accosted the skipper, Master Jabez Elves, and wished him fair weather and a good day with an insinuating accent which betokened a bent for conversation. But Master Elves replied only with a nautical grunt. Jarrat tried a direct inquiry. "Where is the Marquis de la Trouerie?" "Sick," replied the skipper. "In his cabin," and rolled away.

"Ah!" smirked Jarrat. "Our French gentleman is a poor sailor." But as the days went by it became certain that the distinguished passenger was ill of a less passing malady than mal de mer.

On an evening the captain pushed open a narrow cabin door at the end of a passage, but before he could enter a young man sprang up and barred the way.

"I would see the Marquis de la Trouerie," said Jarrat.

"You cannot see him, monsieur." The young man's tone was very firm.

"Who are you?"

"The Marquis' secretary, monsieur."

Jarrat took a gold crown from his pocket and offered it to the other with the easy effrontery of one perfectly certain of his ground. Every underling, it was his belief, had his price, from lackeys to prime ministers. It is a theory which on the whole works not badly.

The man before him, however, was of another sort. He put the coin back. "You cannot see the marquis, monsieur," he repeated.

"Cannot, you whelp!" said Jarrat, with his tongue on his lip and in the soft tone which with him covered a pierce with holes, threw yellow beams down the passage, and in this glare the young man on the threshold saw his face, evilly beautiful and distorted. The coin rattled on the floor.

Jarrat took it and thrust it into his pocket. "It was too small a douceur," he said easily, "oh, master secretary?"

Most of those on the ship did not know, so insular were the prejudices of the Anglo-Saxon, that the Marquis de la Trouerie was a personage in his own country. Even Caron de Beaumarchais, son of a watchmaker, that airy, naive, fantastic charlatan who at the age of twenty-four had washed his hands at his father's shop, changed his clothes and gone to court to give the four daughters of Louis XV. lessons on the harp—even he was less welcome at the Tuilleries or less a favorite of the young Queen Marie Antoinette than this same nobleman now aboard the Two Sisters.

It is perhaps not to be wondered at that the passengers knew little of such things and doubtless for the most part cared less. Two Annapolis merchants, loyal since the nonimportation agreements had pinched their pockets; a brace of London factors looking for likely agencies; a Virginian fresh from study in the Middle Temple, bound for the woolstack at Lancaster; a British quartermaster journeying to Boston—what should such a company know of Gallic pedigrees or the chatter of the French court?

A diplomat might have found in the presence of the marquis something to ponder. For at that time strange things were stirring. Louis XVI., young, enthusiastic, unaccustomed, was learning for the first how exceeding difficult it is to be a king. M. Turgot, his grim old minister of finance, logical, pitiless, cold as a dog's nose, was pulling one way; Beaumarchais, brilliant as a chameleon, fascinating, egotist, intimate of a French queen, was pulling another.

And what was the bone of contention? Whether France should give her treasure to the secret aid of the American colonies. With such counsels in the air England slept, like a surly bull-dog, with one eye open. She watched at home, and her astute ambassador, Lord Stormont, kept a hawk's eye upon the Tuilleries.

So, in itself, there was an interest for those who knew, attaching to the sudden journeying to America of this man, so near to the French counsels, at once a noble, a courtier and a republican. And this interest was intensified for Jarrat, who, mindful of the letter he carried of confidential import, hugged the reflection that he knew the reason for it.

Jarrat, like many another schemer, made the error of undervaluing the intellectuality of an opponent. He had small idea that the marquis' young secretary was observant in his turn. It was nevertheless the fact. But M. Armand, who had scented him very early, kept his cabin, and no one aboard—the ship carried no leech—saw his master.

Four days after the episode of the gold crown Jarrat tried the skipper again.

Passenger Ship Catches Fire During Terrific Storm at Sea.

FOURTEEN PERSONS ARE LOST

Lifeboats Launched, But Are Overwhelmed by the Waves and Occupants Drowned—Crew Battles Manfully Against Blaze.

Port Townsend, Wash., Feb. 29.—After suffering the most harrowing experience from fire and storm that has ever befallen a craft on the North Pacific coast the steamer Queen put in here to report the loss of 14 lives.

About 3:45 o'clock Saturday morning, while off the mouth of the Columbia river, the Queen caught fire in her after saloon in some unexplained way. The fire rapidly gained headway and threatened soon to envelop the whole ship. The heavy seas running meant death to any sent away in the lifeboats. The flames became more and more threatening, until, when it seemed a choice of deaths, Capt. Cousins ordered the lifeboats launched. They were manned by the crew and ordered to remain close to the ship. Into these the women and children were placed. Hardly, however, had the boats been cast loose than unable to weather the fierce waves two of them capsized.

The passengers and those of the crew who remained on board continued their fight against the flames with increasing success until 7:40 a. m., when the fire was brought under control. When it was thought the danger from fire was past Capt. Cousins recalled the lifeboats and the occupants were taken aboard.

The Queen was headed for the mouth of the Columbia river and about 9 o'clock the steamer Santa Monica was sighted. The Queen signaled and asked her to stand by until temporary repairs could be made. When everything had been made safe the Queen continued on to the mouth of the Columbia, only to find the bar was too rough to cross in. The distressed craft was pointed toward Puget Sound, but bad fortune still pursued her and when she rounded Cape Flattery she encountered a terrific electrical storm. With difficulty she weathered the gale, reached here without further mishap and proceeded to Seattle, where she arrived about midnight.

Ten of those who lost their lives were spilled out of the small boats. Three men, who were on the vessel before the fire was discovered, were rescued from their bunks in the rear part of the ship and one woman died later from exposure.

According to stories told by passengers and the crew the vessel was off Tillamook and about 30 miles from land when the fire was discovered. There was a heavy sea on and the ship was pitching badly. When smoke was discovered coming out of the scull hall on the after main deck of the vessel the crew was immediately hurried out and the small boats manned, while the stewards went from cabin to cabin waking up the passengers.

A Cure For Eczema.

My baby had eczema so bad that its head was a solid mass of scabs, and its hair all came out. I tried many remedies but none seemed to do any permanent good until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The eczema is cured, the scabs are gone and the little one's scalp is perfectly clean and fully again. I cannot give too much praise to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. —Frank Farmer, Bluff City, Ky. In healthy, and its hair growing beautifully. DeWitt's is the original and the only one containing pure witch hazel. The name E. C. DeWitt is on every box. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

Fined Him $5—Ike Gourley was arrested last evening by Officer Shipley. He was charged with being drunk. The mayor fined him $5 this morning and allowed him to go upon his promise to pay the amount.

New Hose Ordered—The safety board has purchased 250 feet of new hose for the fire department. The purchase was made last Saturday and the hose will arrive in the city in a few days. The amount paid for the hose was 80 cents per foot.

Denies Ownership—Harrison Rinehart, the liveryman, states that it was not his rig that Officer Morris had on his eventful trip to Lisbon with the juvenile trio, who were turned over to the probate court. He says that his horses are all shod and the team could not have belonged to him.

City Officials Paid—All of the city officials excepting those under the health department were paid on last Saturday. The health board neglected to meet on last Friday evening and the auditor, having no certified pay roll, could not give out the money. It is likely a meeting of the board will be held in a few days to pass the pay roll.

STIRRING WORDS OF L. E. HAWK

The Evangelist Thrilled His Hearers by His Eloquence at the First U. P. Church.

THE ASCENSION OF CHRIST

A Theme on Which An Impressive Discourse Was Delivered Yesterday Morning—Notes of Services in Other Local Churches.

Evangelist Leslie E. Hawk preached another of his soul stirring sermons at the First United Presbyterian church yesterday morning. As an evangelist Rev. Mr. Hawk has few peers and that he is appreciated by the people of this city is evidenced by a packed auditorium at every service conducted by him. The success of his efforts last year was marvelous and from the outlook he will accomplish even more during the present season of services.

On the subject "Christ's Ascension," the eloquent man thrilled the audience. He portrayed the life of Christ on earth, describing the wonders He performed, the usefulness of His visit, and in a most interesting manner explained why it was necessary that the Divine Son leave His children and fly into the realms of His Father's home. The life of Jesus on earth was God revealed. He spoke with lips of divinity. He was inspired by the Maker of all things and the One who has a knowledge of even the thoughts of our hearts.

What a sacred privilege it is that we had the example of such a character. If we have sought to live like Jesus Christ we will not ascend to heaven by our own power. The same power that carried Him through the pearly gates will usher us through them. If we do not enter the kingdom of heaven it will be our loss and the eternal gain of the devil, who desires nothing but our downfall and everlasting punishment. That the Lord ascended into heaven is a most comforting thought. He went as a human being. It brings out the idea that heaven is a place that has dimensions where glorified spirits dwell, where God reveals Himself. Why did not Jesus stay on earth? Why did He not stay here and preach the gospel to men and save souls? There are many reasons why God in His providence took Him from us. We sometimes think that were He only among us, we could comprehend and understand. He is gone to heaven but He will return. When He went He sent a spirit here to comfort us and to save us. One of the reasons for His ascension was necessary to the full truth of His divinity.

The world needs regeneration and thorough renovation. It is sinful and would be no place for a sinless man. A second reason is that it was a part of Christ's exaltation. While He was on earth He humbled himself, and God had Him ascend to the throne as a reward for His lowly work among us. A third reason, it was necessary in His character as our high priest. He went there to make intercession for us. A fourth reason. It was necessary for Christ as king. He entered the portals of heaven as a king and to prepare a place for us. He is the King of Glory.

The Savior himself said: "If I go not away the comforter will not come." That reason alone was sufficient for His departure. He sent us the Holy Spirit. That mysterious something is to be found everywhere. The influence of it is exactly as would have been His presence among us. When He went to heaven He did not forget us, knowing that by sending His spirit, we could be saved. Another reason propounded by Christ is contained in the following quotation from His lips to the disciples: "I go to prepare a place for you, and if I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again to receive you unto myself; that where I am you may be also. In my Father's house are many mansions. If it were not so, I would have told you."

Heaven is a prepared place for prepared people. The coming of Christ will be our salvation or our condemnation. The same Jesus of Nazareth who ascended into heaven will come again to settle our destiny. We may go with Him, and enter into the joy that He has prepared for us. In anticipation of spending such a glorious eternity we should commence today to prepare ourselves.

NEW BAPTISTERY USED

Four Candidates Received Into the Baptist Church and Interesting Services Held.

At the Baptist church yesterday morning the pastor, Rev. H. H. Baden, took as his text, Exodus 14:15—"Speak unto the Children of Israel that they go forward." He called attention to the historical setting of the text, and then proceeded to draw lessons from it, calling attention to the Lord's leadings of the little church up to the present time, and urged his hearers to go forward first, into a larger, fuller, more abiding faith; second, more earnest, wrestling, prevailing spirit of prayer, and third, to effort corresponding to such faith and prayer. There was a good congregation.

In the evening there was an overflowing congregation. After a song service and a solo by the pastor, he took for his text the Beatitudes, Matt. 5:3-9. He showed how John the Baptist had been sent as the forerunner of the King; that Jesus the King came to set up His kingdom, and in these words the King was describing the subjects of the kingdom. The pastor then showed the seven marks of the subjects of the kingdom of heaven.

After the sermon the ordinance of baptism was administered to four candidates. These were a part of the results of the recent meetings held by the church. There were eight other additions, and there are others who doubtless will soon be added to the church.

The baptistry was used for the first time last evening. It is hoped that there may be frequent occasion to use it. It is excellently adapted for its use.

KINGDOM OF CHRIST AND THAT OF BELIAL

Man Must Either Be God's Subject or Satan's—There Is No Half Way.

"Christ and Belial, or the Kingdom of Light in Conflict With the Kingdom of Darkness" was the subject of an able discourse by Rev. J. G. Reinartz at St. John's Lutheran church last evening. His text was from Luke 11:14-28, "Enter ye in at the straight gate; for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in there at; because straight is the gate and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."

There are two gates by which men enter, two ways in which men walk, two places to which men go. Every man is walking, either in the broad way of the world or in the narrow way of Christ. At the end of the way every man will find himself either in the place of torment or in the place of pleasure for evermore. To whichever place man goes there shall he be and shall depart from it no more. Neither are these two ways to eternity so high together or so kindred to each other that men can walk in both at the same time. One way leads upward and the other downward. A man may leave the one way and go to the other, but he can walk only in one way at one time.

As there are but two ways, so there are only two spiritual kingdoms, the kingdom of Christ and the kingdom of Satan. The most important question for us is not whether we are rich or poor, loved of man, or hated, healthy or sick; the most important question is whether we are in Satan's kingdom of sin and death or in Christ's kingdom of truth and life. These two kingdoms are against one another as light is against darkness and cannot exist together peaceably. There can be no agreement between Christ and Satan that each shall have a part of man's heart to rule over.

The speaker told how one might know whether he was in the kingdom of Christ or not and gave rules for judging one's self. We are with Christ if He is the treasure of our hearts, the love of our souls, the most precious prize of our highest affections.

THE ARMY CROWING

New Recruits For the Salvationists and Great Enthusiasm at the Meetings.

Salvation Army meetings are growing in interest. In the past two weeks the Army has received 25 or 30 recruits and more are coming. The meeting yesterday afternoon was addressed by Mrs. Henry Goodwin and the hall was packed to the doors and the street. The interest and enthusiasm were great.

The Army is planning another 10 days' campaign which promises to be more interesting than any yet held.

Special Revival Services.

Special revival services will be held this week in the lecture room of the First Methodist Protestant church. There will be a special program of music each evening, where the meetings will be conducted as they were last week. The singing this week will be in charge of Harry Smith and Charles Risinger. This evening a solo will be rendered entitled, "The Holy City"; Tuesday evening, a trio, "Some Day"; Wednesday evening, soprano and alto duet; Thursday evening, a quartette will sing, while the program for Friday evening has not been completed.

Money for Missions.

Although the appropriation for missionary causes was made several weeks ago at the First Methodist Protestant church, yet a special collection of $40 was taken last night, to be applied to the work in Japan. Rev. T. J. Ogburn, of Greensboro, N. C., corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions of the M. P. church, made an appeal for help last evening at the local church. He told in part what the board has done since it was organized in 1834, and what work was done before the church.

James Evans.

James Evans, aged 65 years, of Sheridan avenue, died at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon from asthma, with which he had been troubled for many months. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. David Jones, of the Methodist Protestant church, officiating. The interment will be in Spring Grove cemetery. Mr. Evans had been a resident of East Liverpool for 25 years and had a large acquaintance here, being known as an honest, upright and substantial citizen, much esteemed and respected. He is survived by his wife and the following children: William Evans, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Thomas Shaw, Mrs. Jennie Buxton, Mrs. William Moon, of this city; Mrs. Max Ross, of Chicago, and Violet and Albert Evans, of this city.

ELECTION DAY IN CUBA.

Citizens of Young Republic Cast Ballots Decorously.

Havana, Feb. 29.—The congressional elections, the first ever conducted entirely under Cuban auspices, were quiet and well conducted.

The ballots were printed on the American plan. The government officials say that the peaceful election shows the competency of the Cubans for self government.

According to reports from the larger cities the Republicans elected all of their congressmen and provincial councillors in Santa Clara province and a majority of those in Matanzas province, while in Pinar del Rio they were divided. The Liberal Nationalists won practically everything in Havana and Santiago provinces, while the Moderate Liberals prevailed in Puerto Principe. In Santiago the main contest was between the Moderate Liberals and the Radicals.

While the Liberal representation in the lower house of congress appears to have been increased by several seats the small Republican majority in the senate will prevent any radical change of policy.

MACHEN SENTENCED.

He and Other Postal Defendants Given Two Years in Prison.

Washington, Feb. 29.—August W. Machen, formerly general superintendent of the free delivery service; Dr. George E. Lorenz of Toledo, O., once postmaster of that city, and Diller B. Groff of this city, all of whom were convicted of conspiracy against the government in connection with the supply of the groff fasteners to the postoffice department, were sentenced by Judge Pritchard to two years' imprisonment in the Moundsville (West Virginia) penitentiary and a fine of $10,000 each.

The defendants immediately gave notice of appeal to the court of appeals and were released on $20,000 bond each. Samuel A. Groff, as to whom Special Counsel Conrad, for the government, said some days ago that there was not sufficient evidence to convict, was not sentenced, his motion for a new trial and for arrest of judgment being allowed further consideration.

The sentence imposed on Machen, Lorenz and Diller Groff is the maximum allowed under the law, although the court, contrary to the contentions of the prosecution, decided that the several counts in the indictment constituted but one offense.

OIL PROSPECTS

well. There were other indications, however, which satisfied the anxious stockholders that the well would be a good producer. This was confirmed today when the hole was cleaned out and made ready for the pumping operation.

Northwest of Ohioville on the William Warrick farm and that of his sister, the company had succeeded in taking up two tracts of land, one containing 40 acres and another 41. A well was drilled in on this property Friday afternoon, and the shooter went directly to that well after shooting the first one. Twenty quarts of the explosive was sent down in this case, the depth of the well being about 1,000 feet. The shot was in every way satisfactory and furnished a beautiful sight for the spectators. When the explosion occurred the oil and water rose out of the hole to a height of nearly 80 feet, and the spectacle was most beautiful.

It is estimated today that the two wells shot on Saturday will be good for probably 18 barrels per day. As soon as the rigs can be moved two more wells will be started on the leases held by the company, and it is confidently expected by the end of the summer the territory will be one of the best paying in this part of the country.

Money for Missions.

Although the appropriation for missionary causes was made several weeks ago at the First Methodist Protestant church, yet a special collection of $40 was taken last night, to be applied to the work in Japan. Rev. T. J. Ogburn, of Greensboro, N. C., corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions of the M. P. church, made an appeal for help last evening at the local church. He told in part what the board has done since it was organized in 1834, and what work was done before the church.

James Evans.

James Evans, aged 65 years, of Sheridan avenue, died at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon from asthma, with which he had been troubled for many months. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. David Jones, of the Methodist Protestant church, officiating. The interment will be in Spring Grove cemetery. Mr. Evans had been a resident of East Liverpool for 25 years and had a large acquaintance here, being known as an honest, upright and substantial citizen, much esteemed and respected. He is survived by his wife and the following children: William Evans, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Thomas Shaw, Mrs. Jennie Buxton, Mrs. William Moon, of this city; Mrs. Max Ross, of Chicago, and Violet and Albert Evans, of this city.

ELECTION DAY IN CUBA.

Citizens of Young Republic Cast Ballots Decorously.

Havana, Feb. 29.—The congressional elections, the first ever conducted entirely under Cuban auspices, were quiet and well conducted.

The ballots were printed on the American plan. The government officials say that the peaceful election shows the competency of the Cubans for self government.

According to reports from the larger cities the Republicans elected all of their congressmen and provincial councillors in Santa Clara province and a majority of those in Matanzas province, while in Pinar del Rio they were divided. The Liberal Nationalists won practically everything in Havana and Santiago provinces, while the Moderate Liberals prevailed in Puerto Principe. In Santiago the main contest was between the Moderate Liberals and the Radicals.

While the Liberal representation in the lower house of congress appears to have been increased by several seats the small Republican majority in the senate will prevent any radical change of policy.
